WILSON WILL NOT RECOGNIZE IRISH REPUBLIC

Not Yet Independent, Believed View.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—President Wilson, it was learned today, has no intention of recognizing Ireland as an independent nation as a result of the appeal submitted to him by the Irish republic.

The attitude of the administration will be based on the view that the tests of recognition have not been satisfied by the actual establishment of an independent government.

De Valera sent his appeal to the president following the official assertion that it would not be entertained by the state department. Mr. Wilson admitted it to the state department, but it awaits his instructions as to its disposition.

Similar Appeal Unanswered.

Whether the appeal will be answered remains to be seen. The communication of Martens, the soviet envoy, was being honored with a reply, but the expectation at the state department, however, is that there will be no reply to De Valera or an official statement setting forth the reasons for non-recognition cannot be extended.

In his appeal De Valera has quoted Wilson liberally, the following examples:

"All peoples be ruled and dominated by their own internal affairs, military and irresponsible force or their own will and choice."

"National aspirations must be respected; peoples may now be dominated and ruled only by their own consent. Self-determination is not a mere phrase."

"Every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, untrammelled, unthreatened, unaided, the little along with the great and powerful."

De Valera sets forth the Irish declaration of independence, draws parallels between the Irish and the American revolutionary cause and quotes nearly all of the president's statements.

By their own act of parliament, England has ruled out all the English cause throughout the 'Irish republic' and the courts of the 'republic' are the only courts functioning there today.

Must Conquer Invaders.

De Valera is cited by the Irish republic without intervention by America as the United States president Monroe's recognition of the South American republics.

De Valera has been completely excluded, independent governments had been in existence for several years, and there appeared no prospect of the country being enabled to recover the states.

INSURANCE MAN IN SANITARIUM FOUND DROWNED

H. H. Ingalls Falls or Walks Off Pier.

Harry H. Ingalls, 44 years old, 6813 Wayne avenue, manager of the New Brunswick Fire Insurance company, 175 West Jackson boulevard, was drowned in Lake Michigan yesterday when he fell or walked off the pier at the foot of Elder lane in Winnetka.

Mr. Ingalls had been a patient in the North Shore Health resort in Winnetka, where he had been sent for a thirty days' stay by order of his physician. He had suffered a nervous breakdown.

N. S. Whitaker, manager of the health resort, notified the police of the finding of the body. He said two women whom he did not know discovered the body and reported to him.

Chief Peterson and Patrolman Salvo recovered the body. The victim had apparently been dead three hours.

Letter Addressed to Wife.

An unsealed letter addressed to Mrs. Gertrude Ingalls, the widow, was found in one of the pockets. It related to matters of the home and the prospective plans of the family in moving to another residence.

According to Chief Peterson, Mr. Ingalls probably was overcome by distress and fell into the water after he had walked out on the pier. Manager Whitaker also expressed the belief that Mr. Ingalls had fallen from the pier.

Takes Walks Alone.

There was nothing in the letter to indicate any intention of suicide, said Chief Peterson. "I learned that Ingalls frequently took walks alone and was frequently to leave the institution at will. He was not confined in a room. I believe he must have become dizzy and fell into the water."

The pier at the point is six or seven feet wide and extends out into the water thirty feet.

Besides his widow, Mr. Ingalls is survived by a daughter, Eleanor, and two sisters and a brother who live in Rockford, Ill.

3 MILLIONS FROM ROCKEFELLER TO CANADAMEDICS

New York, Nov. 28.—The Rockefeller Foundation today announced the preliminary appropriation of $3,000,000 in aid of medical education in Canada out of the $5,000,000 previously set aside for the purpose.

The appropriations now made are of two classes: First, contributions toward increasing the permanent resources in buildings and endowments of schools already well established; second, contributions to annual income of institutions which are undergoing reorganization. These allocations have been made:

McGill University, Montreal, $1,000,000; University of Toronto, $1,000,000; Dalhousie University, $500,000; University of Manitoba, $500,000.

Schools in process of reorganization to receive aid from the income of the $2,000,000 reserve are:

University of Alberta, $25,000; Université de Montreal, $25,000.

THE RESTLESS AGE

(Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.)

It was a hideous nightmare for Miss Morland, except that she knew she was awake and not dreaming.

After the clanging of the burglar alarm and the two shots she listened in dread to the opening of windows in neighboring houses and the hurrying of footsteps on the sidewalk and excited voices.

Summoning all her strength, she opened her door upon the now brilliantly lighted house and called out: "Herman, Herman, what is the matter?"

"The burglar alarm, Miss. I guess somebody's been trying to break in."

"From down the street came the clang of the police patrol, and a moment later a cordon of officers with drawn revolvers was encircling the house."

"After a long time the old caretaker tapped on Lucille's door."

"Don't worry, Miss Lucille. We've searched the whole house and found nobody. I guess the alarm scared 'em away."

"There was no sleep for Miss Morland. Upstairs in her mind was the dread of being involved, but in the background was a persistent fear for what had happened to Tom."

She assumed, and rightly, that he, leaving her darkened house so late, could not explain his presence at that hour without compromising her, and, rather than risk this, had topped over the night watchman and fled. It pleased Lucille to think he had acted the gentleman for her sake, even at the risk of being killed.

But when morning came the fear of being involved restrained her from inquiring about him. Her one thought was to get away as quickly as possible—to put miles and miles between her and the chance of unpleasant publicity.

As the morning passed, and no message came from Tom, her fears became more intense. Suppose he had been mortally wounded, or captured; and, if the latter, would he be subjected to the third degree until he confessed why he was leaving the darkened Morland house at 2 o'clock in the morning? She shuddered at the thought, and hastened her preparations for departure.

At 2:30, heavily veiled, she started for her summer home ignorant of what had happened to Tom and moved by one impulse—to save herself from possible annoyance and embarrassment.

The early afternoon papers contained accounts of the shooting. Liquor thieves were suspected, but the most popular police theory was that it had been a frustrated Red plot to blow up Mr. Morland, because of his huge war profits obtained by speculating in foodstuffs. Some days before, a radical diary had charged him

LEAGUE WANTS AMERICAN IDEA ON ARMAMENTS

(Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.)

GENEVA, Nov. 28.—The council of the league of nations will consider tomorrow a recommendation by the permanent commission on naval, military and aviation questions that the United States be invited to cooperate in the study of the reduction of armaments.

This resolution was adopted by the commission on technical grounds. The council will consider its political aspects also.

The action of the commission was based on a letter by a military member, Gen. Clive of England, who pointed out that America had cooperated in the deliberations of the Hague commission to draft the league court and in the Brussels financial conference, which, he held, gave a precedent for American cooperation in disarmament.

The league experts would like the war department to appoint an American officer now in Europe to take part in their discussions and have others appointed for subsequent discussions between now and the next meeting of the assembly. Maj. Marlborough Churchill is now here, but would doubtless have to receive special instructions from Washington before he could take part.

May Invite U. S. to Join Discussion.

London Plot of Fire Bugs Is Failure

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

LONDON, Nov. 28.—A suspected Sinn Féin attempt at arson in London on a large scale was foiled by the police Saturday night.

Shortly after 10 o'clock a police constable noticed six men outside a big timber yard in Red Lion market, Finsbury. He questioned one of them and then walked away a little distance.

Then, not feeling satisfied, the constable tried to detain one of them, but they all ran away, and an exciting chase followed. Dozens of policemen joined in the hunt.

Residents in the neighborhood took part, and one man was caught. The utmost importance is attached to the capture of the man, who is to be brought before a magistrate tomorrow.

After the incident detectives found a number of revolvers and also several oil cans and other material which it is alleged the men dropped as they ran away. The place where the affair happened was behind a big timber shed. It is inclosed in a quiet square.

It is believed the detectives secured several important clues. There is reason for stating that sensational developments are expected.

Sen of Army Officer.

The man arrested gave his name as Robertson, but afterwards admitted it was Murnane. He is an engineering student of the College of Engineers, South Kensington, and is said to be the son of an army officer.

The police today searched his lodgings in Lewisham and took possession of a large number of documents. Murnane later made a statement to the police.

HE MARRIED HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW! THEY FACE 'PEN'

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Putting all jokes aside, Walter Thornton, 32, Paducah cooper, married his mother-in-law Thanksgiving day. The honeymoon lasted until yesterday, when they were arrested on the charge of violating the Kentucky statute which says, among other things, that a man shall not marry the mother of his wife. A $500 to $5,000 fine attaches, and if such a marriage is not terminated penitentiary sentence is the alternative.

Thornton married May Hale five years ago. Three weeks ago he obtained a divorce on the ground of infidelity, and he and his young daughter continued to live at the home of the mother-in-law, Mrs. Effie Hale, 42.

Arraigned before County Judge Lang, the newlyweds pleaded that the bride was no longer Thornton's mother-in-law after he obtained the divorce from her daughter. Judge Lang said there might be something to that and took the case under advisement. Louisville judges believe the case is without precedent.

MAN WANTED IN OMAHA MAIL RAID BATTLES CAPTORS

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Keith Collins, said to have been an air service captain during the war, and sought in connection with the $5,000,000 mail car robbery "at Council Bluffs two weeks ago, was captured today by postoffice inspectors at the home of his uncle near Westville, Okla.

Collins, according to word reaching here, fought desperately until overpowered, and then confessed the Westville city marshal is quoted as saying. He is being brought to Muskogee for return to Omaha, where six persons have been arrested as participants in the sensational theft of ten mail pouches.

Police Arrest 4 Sinn Féiners; Find Gas Cans

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 28.—Seven men were arrested today in a five mile stretch of the Liverpool waterfront today.

Investigations conducted by the authorities show clearly, they say, that the blaze was the outcome of a conspiracy which intended wholesale destruction.

Four Sinn Féiners have been arrested by the police, who assert that the outrage was a carefully planned act of reprisal directed by the Sinn Féin.

At 10 o'clock tonight several six story cotton warehouses had been completely destroyed. Others still were burning, while some had been partially saved through efforts of the fire departments of Liverpool and neighboring cities.

Vast Damage Done.

While no definite figures will be available for several days, the damage to property, cotton, and other merchandise cannot fall to total hundreds of thousands of pounds.

According to the police, the incendiaries worked in groups of five, and one of these groups was caught in the act of leaving the vicinity of a warehouse which soon after burst into flames.

Noticing the suspicious group near the warehouse entrance, a policeman inquired what their business was. Four of the men immediately fled, but their companion answered by firing point blank at the officer. He missed his mark, however, and was placed under arrest. Nothing further concerning this prisoner has been given out by the authorities.

Policeman Meets Death.

It is believed that this encounter and the murder of a policeman shortly after in Parliament street, impeded the work of the conspirators and possibly saved the city, its docks, and public buildings.

The slaying of the officer in Parliament street apparently checked the progress of the incendiaries southward, but a short time later seven fires were started in the region of the extreme north docks. These fires are still raging.

Still later a large warehouse filled with cotton was set ablaze in Bootle, a Liverpool suburb, and late tonight still another conflagration is reported from that community.

Shortly after the first fire was set Daniel Ward, a youth of 19, who was assisting the police, encountered two of the fire bugs and was shot dead. The police have sent broadcast descriptions of two of these men, who are being sought for murder.

Find Gasoline Cans.

As part of the evidence collected by the authorities which, they say, point to a carefully arranged plot, are many tins of gasoline and paraffin. They also declare that the incendiaries were equipped with tools capable of cutting the heavy bolts which secured the warehouses' doors.

One Irishman who was arrested by the police during the fires was taken with a pair of bolt cutters in his possession, the authorities declare.

Progress of the incendiaries through the city was facilitated, the police said tonight, by a fleet of motor cars, and it is believed that many of them may have fled from the city by the same means.

WELLS FINDS RED ANGRY AMATEUR IN GOVERNMENT

Russian a Great Wrecker and Slow Builder.

BY H. G. WELLS.

ARTICLE V.
(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune.)
(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune.)
These bolsheviks are, as I have explained, extremely inexperienced men, intellectual exiles from Geneva and Hamstead, or comparatively illiterate manual workers from the United States.

Now was there no amateurish a government since the early Moslems themselves in control of Cairo, Damascus and Mesopotamia.

These communists came into power in Russia and began to do at once, on principle, the first necessary thing in that chaos of social wreckage. Against all the habits and traditions of Russia they began to control and rule exhaustively. They have now a ruling system that is, on paper, admirable beyond cavil, and perhaps it works as well as the temperamental and circumstances of Russian production and consumption permit.

Cases of Stupidity.
And in the face of gigantic difficulties they are trying to rebuild a new Russia among the ruins. We may marvel with their principles and methods, we may call their schemes Utopian and so forth, we may sneer at it, but it is no good pretending that there is no creative effort in Russia at the present time. A certain section of the bolsheviks are hard minded, doctrinaire, and unteachable men, fanatics who believe that the mere destruction of capitalism, the disease of money and trading, the effacement of all social differences, will in itself bring about a sort of bleak millennium.

But there are other more liberal minds in this new Russian world, minds which, given an opportunity, will build and will probably build well. Among men of such constructive force I would quote such names as Lunacharsky, the minister for education; Rikoff, the head of the department of people's economy; M. L. Lina, of the Petersburg child welfare department; and Krassin, the head of the London trade delegation.

In Spite of Blockade and War.
These are names that occur to me; it is by no means an exhaustive list of the statesmanlike elements in the bolshevik government. Already they have achieved something, in spite of blockade and civil and foreign war. It is not only that they work to remove a country depleted of material to an extent almost inconceivable to English and American readers, but they work with an extraordinarily unhelpful personnel.

Russia today stands more in need of men of the foreman and workman class than she does of mediocrities or food. The ordinary work in the government offices of Russia is shockingly done; the slackness and inaccuracy is indescribable. Every body seems to be working in a muddle of unsorted papers and cigar ends.

Era of Inefficiency.
I write of this general inefficiency in Russia with the more asperity because it was the cause of my not meeting Lunacharsky. About eighty hours of my life were consumed in traveling by telephone, and waiting about in order to talk for an hour and a half with Tchitcherin. At that rate, and in view of the intermittent boat service from Reval to Stockholm, to see Lunacharsky would have meant at least a week more in Russia.

But if I saw nothing of Lunacharsky personally, I saw something of the work he has organized. The primary material of the educationist is human beings, and of these at least there is still no shortage in Russia, so that in that respect Lunacharsky is better off than most of his colleagues. And beginning with an initial prejudice and much distrust, I am bound to confess that in view of their enormous difficulties the educational work of the bolshevik impresses me as being astonishingly good.

Things started badly. Directly I got to Petersburg I asked to see a school, and on the second day of my visit I

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, SAFE?

Police Lieut. John Loftis and the stolen safe.

BURGLARS broke into a Thompson "cash and carry" grocery at 3050 Broadway early Sunday morning and stole the safe, containing the Saturday receipts. The safe, opened and emptied, was found later in a vacant lot at Peterson road and Francisco avenue. Until an audit is made the amount of the loot cannot be determined.

Inspection of the Schools.
It was extremely well equipped, much better than an ordinary English grammar school, and the children were bright and intelligent; but our visit fell in the recess. I could witness no teaching, and the behavior of the youngsters I saw indicated a low standard of discipline. I formed an opinion that I was probably being shown a picked school specially prepared for me, and that this was all that Petersburg had to offer.

The special guide who was with us then began to question the children upon the subject of English literature and the writers they liked most. One name dominated all others. My own, such comparatively trivial figures as Milton, Dickens, Shakespeare ran about intermittently between the feet of that literary colossus. Being questioned further, these children produced the titles of perhaps a dozen of my books. I said I was completely satisfied by what I had seen and heard, that I wanted to see nothing more—for, indeed, what more could I possibly require? And I left that school smiling with difficulty and thoroughly cross with my guides.

Surprises and Is Surprised.
Three days later I suddenly scrapped my morning's engagements and insisted upon being taken at once to another school—any school close at hand. I was convinced that I had been deceived about the former school, and that now I should see a very bad school indeed. Instead I saw a much better one than the one I had first seen. The equipment and building were better, the discipline of the children was better, and I saw some excellent teaching in progress.

Most of the teachers were women—very competent looking middle aged women—and I chose elementary geometrical teaching to observe because that on the blackboard is in the universal language of the diagram. I saw also a heap of drawings and various models the pupils had done, and they were very good.

The school was supplied with abundant pictures. I noted particularly a well chosen series of landscapes to assist the geographical teaching. There was plenty of chemical and physical apparatus, and it was evidently put to a proper use. I also saw the children's next meal in preparation—for children eat at school in soviet Russia—and the food was excellent and well cooked. Far above the standard of the adult rations we had seen served out. All this was much more satisfactory.

"Vogue of H. G. Wells."
Finally, by a few questions, we tested the extraordinary vogue of H. G. Wells among the young people of Russia. None of these children had ever heard of him. The school library contained none of his books. This did much to convince me that I was seeing a quite normal school. I had, I now began to realize, been taken to the previous one, not as I had supposed in my wrath with an elaborate intention of deceiving me about the state of education in the country, but

HARDING LEAVES THE CANAL ZONE BOUND FOR HOME

Day at Jamaica Will Break Journey.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune.)
COLON, Nov. 28.—President Elect Harding sailed at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the liner Pastores for Norfolk, with a stop at Jamaica next Tuesday. Five days in the canal zone and Panama have given him little rest, but have left him with new ideas of the responsibilities of the United States to the other republics of this continent and have shown him something of his own great opportunities to increase trade and bind the nation more closely with Central and South America.

"I would rather have ties of commerce than ties of treaties," Senator Harding said, in his speech at a banquet given by Gov. Arce of Colon province, in Hotel Washington last night.

Commerce Comes First.
Great Britain has written many pages of the history of civilization, but she never wrote a single one until she developed her commerce. It is up to America to build up an enormous commerce here.

"The United States is not selfish, but is ambitious to be prosperous and independent." This development means making the Panama canal secure against attack on land, sea, or from the air. It is not secure now, in the opinion of high army and navy officials here.

Senator Harding spent two days examining the defenses. The contemplated trade development means also an improvement in the relations between Americans and Panamanians, for it is recognized that there is room for such improvement, as army and navy officials have not always treated the people with the consideration and understanding they deserve. This is true also of business relations.

Senator Harding's kindly, sympathetic attitude made a big impression here and leaves hope among the people. He will surely need diplomacy to get the islands needed for defense away from Panama.

Talks to Masons.
A new treaty is wanted which would give Panama more rights and leave the army less.

Senator Harding talked yesterday in Free Masons' lodge at Cristobal. "I come this far away to know more fully our own republic," he said. "The older I get and the more I see of official obligations, the more I am convinced that only those are fit to serve who know what service is expected of them."

"I have been seeking, in this informal, indirect way, in advance of my assumption of responsibility to know something of this part of the American republic and to get a new sense and realization of the influence of America."

"I hope this visit may add something to my understanding and will be designed to promote the fraternity of mankind and a better fellowship of the nations."

Ma and Pa Burdick, champion doughnut dispensers with the A. E. F. in France, will be in the loop today with extra quality "sinks" to aid the Salvation Army drive.

THIS is "doughnut day" in the Salvation Army home service appeal for $425,000. Society and club women will attempt to put the fund over the top with 50,000 home-made doughnuts. Mrs. William H. Scriven, chairman, and her workers will let loose the flood of "sinks" from the headquarters at 151 North Michigan avenue at 7 o'clock this morning. Ma and Pa Burdick, known to every member of the A. E. F. as the world's greatest "doughnutners," will be in the loop early with their doughnut hut.

NEW SLIDES MAY CUT 1,000 FEET OFF MONT BLANC

Avalanche Damage Was Heavy, People Find.

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

GENEVA, Nov. 28.—The unprecedented avalanche which descended from the summit of Mont Blanc into the Italian valley of Courmayeur has caused greater havoc than was first reported.

Several square kilometers of land are covered with blocks of ice, tree trunks, and bowlders, and near the village of Portud, a pine forest, celebrated for its antiquity and the size of the trees, was absolutely uprooted.

A mountain torrent named the Doire was dammed up by the debris and overflowed the banks so that the village of Portud escaped only by a miracle.

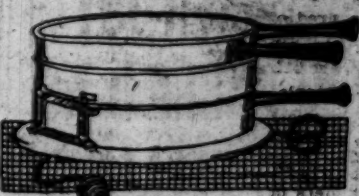

The avalanche fell through the air a distance of about 10,000 feet, landing on the Brenva glacier and carrying away a portion. The detonation was so powerful as to shake houses fifty miles away.

Citizens Panic Stricken.
The inhabitants of Courmayeur valley rushed from their homes in consternation, deeming that the very earth shook. The granite block which became detached from the summit of Mont Blanc and caused the avalanche was in itself as large as a small mountain. Brenva glacier below was literally crushed where the avalanche fell, and its terminal moraine was swept down the valley like a waterfall.

The Italian authorities have taken away many inhabitants from Courmayeur valley. This is the second Mont Blanc disaster in the last month.

Crash on French Side Also.
On the French side of the mountain an immense avalanche descended into Chamounix valley, but not from the summit, although it did damage running into several million francs.

A message from Chamounix states the Vallot observatory, situated about 1,400 feet from Mont Blanc summit, is intact.

REMEMBER JOY YOU CARRIED AS GOOD FELLOWS?

Many a Home Needs You
Again; Now's the Time.

Well, Good Fellows, did you read about yourselves yesterday morning on the front page of the 700,000 Sunday Tribune that went all over the United States? We told the world about you Good Fellows, and we are going to keep sending out news of what you are doing up till the night before Christmas.

Then, on Christmas morning "we'll all the world" what you did for the poor little folk of Chicago who looked to you for their Christmas, and were not disappointed. Wonder if you realize that you have been doing this Good Fellow business for eleven years through THE TRIBUNE? Do you remember how we started?

Well, it was all due to one letter that came into our office Friday, Dec. 10, 1909, and it was such a fine letter that we are going to read some of it to you again just to remind you of how this great idea has become a wonderful movement bringing happiness to thousands, both givers and receivers, all over the city.

The Letter That Started It. Whoever the modest soul was that wrote it, we only hope that he or she is still alive and happy over the blessing that she or he has brought to so many in Chicago, and may read the interesting letters that we are going to print every day from now until Christmas. So here's the original letter.

"Last Christmas and New Year's eve you and I went out for a good time and spent from $10 to $200. Last Christmas morning over 5,000 children awoke to an empty stocking—the bitter pain of disappointment that Santa Claus had forgotten them. Perhaps it wasn't our fault.

"We had provided for our own; we had also reflected in a passing way on those less fortunate than our own, but they seemed far off, and we didn't know where to find them. Perhaps in the hundred and one things we had to do some of us didn't think of that heart sorrow of the child over the empty stocking.

And if for Five Years. "Now, old man, here's a chance. I have tried it for the last five years, and ask you to consider it. Just send your name and address to THE TRIBUNE—address Santa Claus—state about how many children you are willing to protect against grief over that empty stocking, enclose a 2 cent stamp, and you will be furnished with the names, addresses, sex, and age of that many children." It is then up to you—you do the rest.

"Select your own present; spend 50 cents or $50, and send or take your gifts to those children on Christmas eve. You pay not a cent more than you want to pay—every cent just where you want it to go. You gain neither notoriety nor advertising; you deal with no organization; no record will be kept; your letter will be returned to you with its answer. The whole plan is just as anonymous as old Santa Claus himself.

Not a Newspaper Scheme. "This is not a newspaper scheme, THE TRIBUNE was asked to aid in GOOD FELLOWS!

Here's a Form to Fill Out. It Will Aid You in Stating Your Plans for Helping Poor Kids.

If you will be a Good Fellow on Christmas day to some family of poor children in Chicago please fill out the attached blank and send it to "The Tribune," Good Fellow Department.

I live at street.

I will be Santa Claus to children.
(as many as you wish)

Please give me the names of children in (State what section of the city you prefer to have assigned to you.)

Sign your name

reaching the Good Fellows by publishing this suggestion and to receive your communication, in order that you may be assured of good faith and to preserve the anonymous character of this work. The identity of the writer of this appeal will not be disclosed. He assumes the responsibility of finding the children and sending you their names, and guarantees that whatever you bestow will be deserved.

"Neither you nor I get anything but of this except the feeling that you have saved some child from sorrow on Christmas morning. It is not enough for you then you have wasted your time in reading this—it is not intended for you, but for the Good Fellows of Chicago. "Perhaps a 25 cent doll or a 10 cent tin toy wouldn't mean much to the children you know, but to the child that would find them in an otherwise empty stocking they mean much—the difference between utter disappointment and the joy that Santa Claus did not forget them.

"Here is where you and I get in. The charitable organizations attend to the bread and meat, the clothes, the necessities; you and the rest of the Good Fellows furnish the toys, the nuts, the candies—the child's real Christmas. GOOD FELLOW."

TRADE LINES UP TO FIGHT BOOZE SOLD AS DRUGS

"Easy to take" medicines and toilet articles of such high alcoholic content that they are being used as substitutes for liquor are to be driven from the market if a campaign announced by proprietary manufacturers is successful.

These manufacturers have been warned by government officials that the withdrawal of alcohol from bonds for manufacturing purposes has been to exceed all reason.

The revenue department recently announced that 4,000,000 gallons of alcohol are being withdrawn monthly for use in manufacture, while a year ago not more than 800,000 gallons were being withdrawn monthly for these purposes.

The Medicine Men Act. The Proprietary association, 440 South Dearborn street, embracing 209 large patent medicine manufacturers, gave out its plan last night.

The association pledged its personnel and resources to exterminating the business of those who procure permits for the withdrawal of non-beverage alcohol and then use it in the manufacture of products being used as beverage substitutes. The association will use its own resources in gathering evidence of violations of the law and the evidence will be turned over to the government for prosecution or for revocation of permits.

"We have no hesitancy in answering the call of the prohibition unit that we assist in running down the offenders," Frank A. Blair, president of the Proprietary association, said. "It is possible like requests will be made of other drug trade organizations and organizations of manufacturers of perfumes, domestic flavoring extracts and other products.

"It must not be imagined that every medicine, proprietary or otherwise, or other products that contain alcohol are offending against the prohibition law. Alcohol is necessary in pharmaceutical manufacture and is used in many products that are not for beverage purposes.

After Recent Arrivals

"Such products are in no way hit by the prohibition law, but what the government is after and what we are after, are the preparations, largely of recent origin, which are 'for beverage purposes' and which are being sold as beverage substitutes.

"Many firms, since the Volstead act became effective, have secured permits for the withdrawal of non-beverage alcohol. Perhaps not enough care has been exercised in granting these permits, but the mere possession of such a permit is no insurance against prosecution if the product manufactured is not for beverage use.

"A call has been sent out by the Proprietary association asking every member to turn his sales force into the investigation and to report to the association all products sold for beverage purposes, together with the name of the dealer and the name of the manufacturer.

MYSTERY GROWS IN BIG CANADIAN THEFT OF BONDS

Kidnaped Millionaire's Aid Is Taken Back.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—Toronto is on edge tonight for what is confidently expected will be a series of startling revelations in connection with the disappearance of a year ago of Ambrose J. Small, owner of sixty-two Canadian theaters, the day he received $1,000,000 as first payment on the sale of his amusement interests.

The disclosures, whose range may embrace some of the highest personages in eastern Canada, as well as notorious figures of Toronto's underworld, are looked for immediately upon the arrival here of John Doughty, the missing millionaire's secretary, who was captured Tuesday in Oregon City, Ore., and who passed through Chicago to Windsor, Ont., last night.

Escorted by Detectives.

The charge on which Doughty was arrested is the theft of $100,000 in Victory bonds, which were removed from Small's safety deposit box the night of his disappearance, and which Doughty is said to have admitted he cashed in Chicago while fleeing west.

Doughty was voluntarily in custody of Detective Sergeant Austin Mitchell, who traced him to Oregon after a year's hunt. As soon as he crossed the border this morning at Windsor, he was served with a warrant said to have charged him with the kidnaping of his wealthy employer.

Strange Steps in Case.

The fact that the fugitive secretary freely returned to Canada without fighting extradition, and the further fact that he was held over a day in Windsor, awaiting the arrival of Inspector of Detectives William Wallace, who has been in charge of the Small case and is familiar with every angle to it, and the rumored remarks made by Doughty at the time of his arrest—all these have served to prepare Toronto citizens for sensational arrests as soon as Doughty publicly "opens up."

A number of newspapers have featured the conjectures that Mr. Small is dead and a crime is hinted at and all agree that Doughty is the "key" which will unlock the mystery door. One of these papers claims that the missing bonds are in Toronto and not in Chicago, where Doughty is quoted as having said he hid them.

That a number of prominent people, one of them a woman, are involved in the kidnaping, and that the abduction probably led to the theatrical manager's will in turn become a scandal, are firmly believed by persons in touch with the case.

Underworld Is Combed.

Underworld characters, under surveillance for nearly a year, also are believed to be mixed up in the suspected murder. Authorities here, with nothing on which to start direct action

IN HEROD'S COURT

Miss Genevieve Fusch costumed for her role in production to be given by Art Institute School.

THE Art Institute school of design's production, "The Drama of the Nativity," will be reproduced four times this year. This is announced by Clarence Hough, executive director of the production. The work, by Cloyd Head, is being worked out by Herman Rosal, head of the school. Eric DeLamarter, has written the music.

Rehearsals have started. The cast is practically the same as in the initial performance last year. Miss Genevieve Fusch, whose interpretation of a worshiper in King Herod's court was a feature of the production, will take the same part.

The performances will be held in Fullerton hall on Friday evening, Dec. 17; Saturday afternoon, Dec. 18; Sunday evening, Dec. 19; and Monday evening, Dec. 20.

STICK TO STORY 2 HOLDUP MEN KILLED PEIRCE

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 28.—Another day of questioning failed to shake the statements of Peter D. Treadway and Marie Phillips, under arrest here in connection with the killing of Henry T. Peirce, manufacturer's agent, that two men, known to them as "Al" Smith and "Jack," were the slayers.

Detectives working on the case tonight said the prisoners had been subjected to virtually a continuous examination since they were brought here Thursday night from Wheeling, and that they had not deviated in any important details from their stories in which they said they were having a party in Peirce's apartment when Smith and "Jack" entered, held up Peirce and when he showed resistance hit him over the head with a pipe wrench.

The police say they have established the identity of these men and they are well known local characters.

WOMAN IN HAMON CASE REMAINS OUT OF SIGHT

$200,000 Life Insurance
Will Be Paid.

Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 28.—Failure of the Oklahoma authorities to find any trace of Clara Smith Hamon, wanted in connection with the mysterious death of Jake L. Hamon, the Republican national committeeman and millionaire oil operator, is provoking intimations here that efforts are being made to hush up the affair.

The authorities are as baffled now as they were a week ago, when Mr. Hamon's death occurred.

Friends of Mr. Hamon are still insisting that the shooting in the Ardmore hotel last Sunday night was "an accident."

County Attorney Russell R. Brown said that the statutory charge of "assault with intent to kill" against Miss Smith would not be changed, and that she would have to give her version of the affair if she has one to give.

No Photograph of Woman.

No clew as to the woman's whereabouts has been found. All her studio pictures have disappeared and the police have had no way of sending her identification broadcast.

Mrs. Hamon Sunday night reiterated her confidence in her husband, despite statutory charges against Miss Smith. Preparations are going forward for an impressive funeral tomorrow, when Mr. Hamon will be buried.

Had Just Got $200,000 Policy.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—Although a $200,000 life insurance policy was delivered to Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman of Oklahoma, only two hours before he was shot, officials of the insurance company which wrote the policy say it will be paid as soon as proof of death is made.

Information that the large policy was delivered to Hamon shortly before his death was made public by Jacob L. Babler, Missouri Republican national committeeman, who is vice president of the insurance company.

Babler said, when asked about the policy, that it was written by his company, but was reinsured in about twenty other companies, the St. Louis company carrying only $20,000 independently.

Babler left here yesterday to attend the funeral of Hamon, an intimate acquaintance of twenty years. Babler said he knew Hamon when the latter was city attorney of Ardmore.

MANN IS BACK AT CAPITOL DESK IN GOOD HEALTH

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—Representative James F. Mann, thirty-five miles southeast of this city, tonight, held up a score of men engaged in a poker and craps game and escaped with loot believed to total $2,000.

They lined the players against the wall with their hands cellophane, according to a telephone message received here, raked the money into bags and left in an automobile.

Grab Two Counterfeiters Before the Ink Is Dry

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28.—Following information given by a woman, three policemen entered a room here today and arrested two men who were drying the ink on more than $2,000 worth of $10 bank notes which had been printed from copper plates.

All the bills were of the same pattern, counterfeiters of the issue of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago of May 18, 1914, and the series number was G-163721-A.

This is not a cloth doll to stuff, but a regular baby doll. She stands nearly sixteen inches high and is all dressed up in a dear little "pinafore" dress. You'll be the proudest girl in the neighborhood with a doll like this. The big blue eyes which open and shut, the rosy cheeks and curly hair, and the little rosy mouth make this the handsomest and most realistic doll you could possibly imagine. You'll just love her to death, she is so cute and pretty.

Every Little Girl Can Have One of These Big Sleeping Dolls for Her Very Own

Mark all the faces you can find. Don't give up too easily. If at first you find it a little hard to solve the puzzle, when you have found 10 faces, write your name and address on the coupon, clip out Dolly's picture and mail without delay with the Puzzle Coupon below to my Big Free Doll Offer.

LEAGUE WANTS AMERICAN IDEA ON ARMAMENTS

May Invite U. S. to Join Discussion.

France on certain questions because of Great Britain's apathy and the inherent distrust of Italy coupled with the Franco-Italian tensions.

Italy Stands Alone.

Italy is standing alone, with Roumania only following because of Rumania's support of Bukarest's operations toward Hungary.

On many occasions this little entente can be counted on to line up solidly with France, but the situation will change when Hungary is admitted to the league if France continues to support Budapest.

Pending the transition period, Italy is isolated and it is difficult to foresee whether she will pitch herself, as her trade troubles are barring her from being up with Great Britain; ancient enmities still are stirring feeling against France, and racial jealousy is keeping her out of the Spanish group.

She cannot afford to join the neutrals now, as this would jeopardize her position as a big power, but she might, after Germany is admitted, because Germany automatically would assume leadership of this clique.

LEYGUES' RETURN TO PARIS HALTS PREMIER PARLEY

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The conferences between Premiers Lloyd George and Leygues have been temporarily suspended owing to the necessity of the French premier's return to Paris tomorrow morning. Leygues is anxious to be present when the chamber of deputies discusses French representation at the Vatican. He hopes to return to London Wednesday morning. Count Storza, Italian foreign minister, who is to take part in the conference with the premiers in connection with the question of Greece and the return of former King Constantine to the throne, arrived in London tonight.

QUESTED, FRIENDS OF GENERAL GRAB MEXICAN STATE

Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 28.—Supporters of Gen. Carlos Green, recently deposed as governor of Tabasco, forcibly deposed the police at Villa Hermosa, the state capital, today and appointed Thomas Garrido as governor. The seizure of power was carried out without loss of life.

After an entire new official personnel of Green supporters had been named, an letter was directed to the state senate stating that the seizure was in retaliation for Green's deposition. Green is now in prison here awaiting trial.

Francisco Cardenas, formally charged with the murder of former president Francisco Madero in 1913, has been arrested in Guatemala, according to advices received here.

Cause of Alienation Suit as Snapped When on Trial for Bigamy.

MRS. ELLEN ALLGOOD.

The grocer—his name is William Holtz—is to blame for the marital troubles in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allgood, according to the husband.

So sure is Allgood that Holtz is responsible for the recent domestic difficulties in which his wife has been embroiled that he has filed suit against the grocer for $10,000. He charges Holtz with the alienation of Mrs. Allgood's affections.

Mrs. Allgood, it seems, lost interest in her husband and her home when Holtz appeared. Finally she deserted her four children and their father and went to live with the grocer. Because she didn't take time to get a divorce from Allgood, Judge Barrett of the Criminal court sentenced her to a term of from one to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of bigamy.

WOMAN SHOTS NEGRO.

Edward Ancho, a Negro, was shot in the left cheek yesterday afternoon in the hallway of his home at 2808 Federal street, by Ella White, a colored woman. Ancho said she shot him during an argument as to which door he should use in entering the house. Ancho lives in the rear, and had entered through the front door. The woman has not been found.

"There's a Reason"

BORAH WOULD GIVE TERRITORY BACK TO EX-FOES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Senator Borah today announced his program for the restoration of peace and the part which the United States hereafter will play in international relations. It is as follows:

1. Pass the Knox resolution declaring a status of peace with Germany.

2. Declare in favor of reconciliation and simplification of international laws.

3. Expand the Hague tribunal, giving it greater powers in the settlement of disputes between nations.

4. Declare that all territory seized by nations in the peace settlement shall be given back to the countries from which it was appropriated.

5. Provide for settlement of all disputes by the international court without resort to war.

This program, as drafted by Senator

BORAH, TAKES NO NOTICE OF THE TROUBLE OF NATIONS EMBODIED IN THE VERALLIED TREATY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—So great has been the call for army trained handmen in civil life throughout the United States that the war department today announces that instructions governing enlistment of musicians have been modified because of the need of men for regimental bands.

Hereafter, according to the adjutant general of the army, a man may enlist to study music who has no musical training. The army will teach him the instrument to which he is best adapted, or which he may desire.

DINING CAR OF TEXAS CHIEF NOT SAFE IN MEXICO

Laredo, Tex., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—When an attempt was made last night to take the special train which was conveying Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas and a number of other high officials of different states across the border for the journey to the City of Mexico, the International and Great Northern railroad refused to permit the dining car and baggage car to enter Mexico.

The reason given was that there was danger of them falling into the hands of bandits. The railroad company finally demanded $40,000 cash as indemnity for possible loss of the cars. It refused to accept an indemnity bond for the amount.

While there were some rich men on the train, none happened to have $40,000 cash with them. After three hours' delay M. T. Cogley, a banker of Laredo, was communicated with and gave the railroad a cashier's check for $40,000.

WAR ON FLESH AT HEALTH SHOW WILL END TODAY

Last Day for Stouts in Competing Classes.

ANTONETTE DONNELLY.
The Health show at the Coliseum attracted thousands of visitors. They studied every phase of the life-prolonging promise.

The chart in the Hotel Men's association booth, showing the reducing record of the contesting classes conducted by Dr. John Dill Robertson and his assistants, my humble self, was the center of lively interest. Today, at the closing time, will prove whether man is more interested in keeping his figure slim and svelter than is woman.
Tomorrow the verdict will be published.

The men and women contestants savored the usual hearty Sunday dinner to hold rigidly to their diet. As reward they are lighter by from one-half pound to three good pounds of flesh. While one-half pound may not seem much showing on a well-upturned frame, a loss of a half pound would mean much at the end of two days or two weeks. Which is the case both Dr. Robertson and I wanted to get over in staging this reducing contest.

East Good Food, Too.

Through the cooperation of Col.
Robertson of the Hotel La Salle it has been proven to the complete satisfaction of the reducers that excellent, appetizing, and filling food may be supplied easily enough to willing reducers.
The lunched and diners at these respective meals have arisen with not a single complaint of hunger pangs.
The carrying of excess baggage is expensive," Dr. Robertson says, "not only for the railroads, but for the human frame. Often the individual has not to pay till later years, but pay he must, with a weak heart and gradually weakened muscles and other tissues. Why not reduce a quarter of a pound a day for the next few weeks, you excess baggage carriers and payers? The reason, every one can see, is because they have not will power enough."

The Score to Date.

The following chart shows weights of the reducing classes last night:

ONLY 25 MORE DAYS!

Miss Clara Polzin finds a soft seat in the first consignment of Christmas trees to reach Chicago.

A L. aboard for a merry Christmas! They've arrived—the first of the trees. They reached here
Saturday via the Michigan Central, four carloads of them. But that quantity won't begin to suffice for Chicago, so more are en route, by train and by boat.

A few shops and stores in the loop are already displaying them. A heavy demand is predicted by merchants.
The trees are coming from the woods of northern Michigan.
Miss Clara Polzin was so happy when she saw them yesterday that she danced on them.

Today is janitors' day at the show.
William Quessie has sent word to 7,000
janitors to meet him at the Coliseum annex at 11 a. m. for a lecture and demonstration on smoke prevention. Engineers and firemen from railroads also have been invited.

PRICE OF BREAD CUT TODAY; DON'T PAY OLD PRICE

Remind Your Grocer if He Has Forgotten.

Did you get an extra cent or two in change when you sent little Billy for that loaf of bread this morning? If you didn't it is time for you to investigate. Either the boy is holding out or the grocer forgot to reduce his price.

A drop in the retail price of bread, effective today, was announced yesterday by Sol Westerfeld, president of the Retail Grocers' association. The change is in accordance with the drop agreed to by the wholesale bakers.

"In most of the stores where bread is used as a leader the price will be 11 cents for the small loaves and 16 cents for the large ones," said Mr. Westerfeld.
"This is a reduction of 1 cent.
In other stores where 13 and 18 cents have been charged, the price will drop to 11 and 17 cents, a 2 cent reduction on the small loaves and a penny on the large ones."

"I have always felt the present method of retailing bread is wrong.
Some time ago, I suggested to the bakers that they set their own price for the consumers and give the store owners 20 per cent of the receipts. That sort of an arrangement would make it worth while to the grocer."

"The bakers will not enter into such a plan," he said, "but it is simply handled for the convenience of the customers. The profit hardly pays the expenses of handling it."

Some of the higher priced grocers said yesterday that they had received no definite word of the price reduction.
Until official advice have come they will not change their prices, they said.

He resides at 2824 Wilcox avenue.

Express Company Employee Stabbed by Fellow Worker

Claude J. Graves, 29 years old, living at the Salvation Army hotel, South Wells and West Monroe streets, was stabbed seven times in the side, breast, and back by De Witt Redmond, 4824
Evans avenue, colored, yesterday.

Graves, an employee of the American Railway Express company, is said to have accused Redmond of being implicated in recent thefts of express packages. The stabbing followed.

BREAD TO BE CUT 1 CENT.

Our First Pre-Inventory Sale of Oriental Rugs Since 1916

For the first time in four years we offer today hundreds of Oriental Rugs at reductions from their original prices up to 40%.

Not since the war and the attendant difficulties arising from abnormal conditions in the Far East have we been permitted to hold this annual sale. In past years our Pre-Inventory Sale, held annually at this time, has afforded the folk of Chicago the opportunity of the whole year for the purchase of Oriental Rugs at prices impossible to make at any other time.

While not comprising our entire stock, the rugs included in this sale have been taken directly from our regular collection, and offer a wide choice with regard to quality, size and price.
Reductions are all drastic and range up to 40% in some cases.

The fact that these rugs are a part of our original collection offers you the greatest possible assurance that they are all of the usual Pushman standard of quality.

Among the large rugs offered in this sale are: Mahals, Araks, Chinese, Anatolians and Saruks, ranging in sizes and prices from 9x12 at $325 to 13x20 at $1,475.

In the smaller sizes are Belouchistans, $16 and up;
Mosuls, $40 and up; Irans, $125 and up; extra fine Lilihans, $265 and up; Saruks, 3x5, $195 and up; Saruks, 4x7, $275 and up; extra fine Saruks, 4x7, $350 and up.

Naturally, an early inspection will afford you the widest possible choice.

CHICAGO REPRESENTATION.

It has been felt in Chicago that the city would accept from the constitutional convention in the new constitution, when submitted for approval, a restriction of city representation in one of the branches of the legislature. It is, in theory, inequitable, but we believe the people of Chicago will recognize the fact that a great city is easily organized and that it might dominate in a fashion not good for the entire state.

The check would be restriction of representation in one branch of the legislature, insuring that the city never should have a majority of both branches and thus completely control legislation.

Since the election, it is reported, the downstate members of the convention have become more determined to fasten a complete restriction upon Chicago, applying it to both houses of the assembly and making it impossible for the city ever to be more than a minority in either branch.

This is ill advised. It oversteps the compromise which Chicago might be willing to make with the downstate counties. It will antagonize the city and make virtually certain the rejection of the constitution. That will leave the city without any representation in the legislature, and the country will have defeated its own purposes. Even now Chicago does not always obtain a fair deal on state expenditures. It is taxed for state purposes and does not receive the equivalent back from the state. This has been true of road funds, automobile taxes, etc.

The city will not submit to an imposition of taxation without fair representation, and it will defeat a constitution which tries to accomplish that inequity.

AN ERROR IN WATERWAY CONTROL.

The annual report of the chief of engineers of the army asks for $130,000 for work on the Illinois river in the next fiscal year. That sum is sought, according to Gen. Beach, because "more extensive dredging operations are imperative, both for maintenance and completion of the Illinois waterway project." The general appears to believe it is a great sum which will accomplish a great work.

It appears to the layman who has made some study of the Illinois waterway project that better evidence of the error of leaving such matters under control of the army engineers could hardly be found. Even in the war, when army engineers might reasonably be expected to be at the height of their efficiency, they were forced to rely upon civilians for many of their important works. Why should civil projects and progress wait upon them in time of peace? The utter inadequacy of the sum asked for the work needed is sufficient evidence that we must wait.

There appears no good reason why such public works should rest with the army. They are essentially projects of peace. There appears to be no more reason why they should be under army control in peace times than that railroads or automobile roads should be under army control. The error of the present system is constantly demonstrated.

Let the army engineers do army work, and perfect themselves in it against the next war. What we want is practical, operating waterways and harbor facilities, not an experimental station or training school.

ARMENIAN ROCKS, MESOPOTAMIAN OIL.

The United States is told that it cannot be considered in Mesopotamian business enterprises, development of oil lands, etc., because the United States is not in the league of nations, but, although the United States is not in the league of nations, it can intervene in behalf of Armenia and negotiate a peace with Turkey.

Great Britain, having taken a mandate for Mesopotamia, says that the equal opportunities specified in the covenant do not apply to nonleague members. Moreover, we did not declare war on Turkey and, therefore, have no equity in the Turkish spoils, but, not having declared war on Turkey, we are in the best position to help out Armenia.

Every time Uncle Sam takes his eyes off his front door some one tries to put the Armenian in front of his doorstep, but this latest suggestion, contained in a request from the league council to Mr. Wilson, is merely to hold the baby for a moment. If the United States does so it will look long in vain for the return of the person by whom the child was entrusted to it.

We can say for the Europeans who have taken everything in Asia Minor except the rocks, Turks, and Armenians of Armenia that they are undismayed by refusals and unflagging in invention. In their persistence to be greater than our resistance Europe can administer everything in Asia Minor which is worth anything and has split the Turkish empire up for the purpose of exploiting it, but, having thereby outraged Turkish nationalism, they insist that the United States shall bring the Turk to order. If they succeed they can get away with murder.

In the Mesopotamian affair we cannot wholly understand our own government. Are Mr. Wilson and Mr. Coby endeavoring to prove that America is at a disadvantage because it did not surrender the league? The British were quick to suggest that it would be dollars in our pocket if we would change our mind and join up.

If Mr. Wilson wants to increase American oil production why go to Mesopotamia? Why not see that conditions in Mexico are favorable to the fair development of resources there? Mexico needs the development and the world needs the oil.

The British have to look sharp if they are to meet their need for oil. If Armenia developed oil the British would take it in a minute. Resources covered by a mandate probably will soon be found to be tied up in the possession of the country taking jurisdiction under that benevolent term, just as thoroughly as under the old colonial system. A mandate will be found to imply ownership.

THE PUBLIC PAYS THE BILLS.

WHOEVER PAYS THE TAXES.

City Controller Harding, advocating tax law revision to compel payment of taxes on personal as well as real property under penalty of a jail sentence, says: "It is true my plan probably would mean money rates would go up. Six or seven percent bonds would have to be put out at 7 or 8 percent to cover payment of taxes on them."

Mr. Harding, possibly unconsciously, brings out a great truth. We are glad it comes from a member of the present city administration. It is the admission that any individual or group cannot spend money without paying for it. There is no patent method for obtaining money for municipal expenditure without taking it from the people. Whether his plan is better or worse than Ald. Riebert's plan for an income tax is beside the point. The thing admitted is that if the city tries to increase its revenue by taxes on securities, those securities will be worth less than at present. They will decline in value in direct proportion to the amount of their value subtracted in taxes.

Tax dodging is, of course, reprehensible. It should be discouraged. But while we are looking around for the best methods of such discouragement and a simultaneous increase in city revenues it is well for us to remember that true economy in city financing and administration alone will reduce the amount of money taken from the public.

Perhaps a tax law might be devised which would equalize the tax burden. We do not presume to say what such a law might be. If devised it might mean greater justice, but it would not decrease the overhead cost of city government. On the contrary, it is likely to increase it if it makes more money available.

CANAL DEFENSES.

It should be humiliating and disgusting to the American people, as we believe it was to the president elect, to learn that the defenses of the canal are in any respect short of the highest efficiency. That they are, as was pointed out to Mr. Harding on his trip of inspection through the zone, is a reproach primarily to the administration and congress, for it is the duty of our representatives in office to safeguard the nation and its interests even when public opinion is preoccupied or indifferent. No president and no war secretary, no member of the committees on military and naval affairs can escape blame for allowing such a condition as was disclosed to Mr. Harding to exist.

Even a civilian can see the inconsistency of claiming, as the administration through Daniels does, that the canal justifies division of the fleet, and at the same time permitting the land defenses of the canal to be less efficient than means and weapons which could be brought against them. The division of the fleet is a vicious piece of politics and a national danger, but it is made still worse by the failure to maintain the canal defenses at the highest point of efficiency.

The situation is characteristic of the slackness, inconsistency, and military inadequacy of the defense policy of the present government, but unfortunately that is not all. No government and no congress would dare to let the nation's defense deteriorate if it were not confident of public indifference. The public will condemn violently when the mistakes come home and the price of its own indifference is to be paid. But meanwhile we drift. "Tired of war," as a congressman said in justification of his vote against an important military measure, we tell ourselves that everything is for the best and that there is no need of our troubling ourselves with unpleasant possibilities.

This is human nature, but human nature in a weak and foolish mood for which it is certain some day to be punished.

GIVE THE PHILIPPINES THEIR FREEDOM.

Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, says that the Filipinos want a government administered by Filipinos. We believe the United States should give it to them. Americans have given them order, security, peace, schools, sanitation, and virtual freedom, assuming all the burdens and all the risks.

If that is not satisfactory the quicker the situation is corrected to their satisfaction the better for the United States. A government administered by Filipinos means full responsibility. They must manage their own army and their own defense.

When the United States withdraws it withdraws. It gives them full freedom, but does not guarantee it. We cannot be held responsible for acts over which we have no control. If the free Filipinos get into trouble they can get out of it or remain in it. That will be an understood bargain. If they go from King Log to King Stork that will be strictly their own affair.

Editorial of the Day

OUR FIZZLING TARIFF PROBLEM.

[Manufacturers' News.]

The revision of our tariff laws will be one of the most important duties of the next congress. Always, heretofore, a matter of partisan discussion, the question of levying import duties must hereafter be considered in the light of international expediency. Today the American manufacturer is confronted by two dangers. First, that the home market will be flooded with foreign merchandise. Second, that the money conditions of Europe will kill his export trade.

The established fact that the merchants and manufacturers of Europe already owe $2,000,000,000 to American business men, upon which indebtedness they cannot pay even the interest, precludes an extension of our export trade unless we are willing to consent to the importation of foreign commodities and manufactures on a large scale. How to regulate imports without injury to our factories and to American workers is a problem that will have to be worked out by the best minds in and out of congress. Normally, McKinley tariff gave a mighty impetus to American industry and placed American labor in a highly favored position. It enabled our factories to turn out vast quantities of export goods and was a great help to American agriculture. Shortly before the war the detrimental effects of the Underwood tariff began to be felt, but the demand for American foodstuffs, raw materials, and manufactures, which began with the opening of hostilities, postponed the evil day whose advent was predicted by economic leaders.

Unquestionably congress will pass a law prohibiting the indiscriminate dumping of foreign goods. But in order to maintain even a semblance of financial equilibrium and retain our position in the export market, we must be prepared to permit a substantial distribution of imported commodities. American farmers, to be prosperous, must have an outlet for their surplus products, and the way it looks now they must take their pay, indirectly, in foreign made articles.

TO J. C. B.

When evening comes and children everywhere are spent with play, they draw you to my knees. Pleading, and, books extended, let me see. Pictured those elves who stitched for that good pair. The cobbler and his spouse; and soon your hair flows 'neath my cheek; your eyes are turned from me.

On her, your two-years' sister, grave and wee, watching the flames in silence from her chair. You hear and yet not hear. . . Ah, sweet, a day will happily come when yours to hold the book And read in cheerful voice. Year-worn and grey, With thoughts borne ever backward I shall look Steadfastly on the coals and dream away Half an hour, a mere leap upon a brook.

BROWN of Carleton College complains that the faculties are concerned with the men and the ladder, that they have geared machinery to the sluggish pace. True, but not only true of educational institutions, a democracy everything is geared to the pace of the weak.

"AS for authors," sighs Shan Bullock, "their case is fairly hopeless. But I recognize that in the new democracy even average intellect has no place at present. The new democracy is on trial. Until it has proven definitely whether it sides with cinemas or ideals, there is not even a living for men who once held an honored place in the scheme of things. That is a dark saying, but I think it is true."

The Toonerville Fire Department.

[From the Spencer, Ind., Leader.]

A spark from a burning fuse scorched a couple of shingles Thursday at the J. B. Yeomans house, corner Main and Hillside. Prompt work with a garden hose prevented the fire from gaining any headway. A peculiar circumstance delayed the fire truck for about ten minutes. The noise of the starting of the engine in the fire hall prevented the men from hearing the signal indicating the location of the fire and inquiry was made of the telephone office. An order issued during the war prohibited the giving of any information and the operator obeyed the orders too literally, refusing information, so the firemen state. After falling on several calls a passerby told the truck driver the location. By the time the department arrived the fire had been put out.

HOW TO SLEEP OUTDOORS.

WOULD you know how to sleep out with pleasure and comfort traveling happily the road to health? Read "The Outdoor Sleeper," a booklet by Frank T. Koons. Just why he slept out he does not tell us, but he does tell us that for him it converted a sick man into a well one, and the while he was entertained and happy as never before. He learned to get entertainment from the stars and clouds, the trees and the birds.

But my friends will be more interested in what he says about "sleeping warm" in winter. He made his bed warm by placing light weight blankets between the springs and mattress and one or two light weight blankets on top of the mattress. The blankets on top of the mattress are well tucked in. The blankets are covered by a sheet. On this the person lies. On top there is a sheet and one or more light blankets folded at the sides and bottom until the folded edges almost meet at the center. On top of all this is a heavier blanket which is tucked in well at the sides and feet. It will be noted that Koons devotes much more than the usual amount of attention to making the under side of the bed warm, a point where many outdoor sleepers fail, and thus invite discomfort. A paper blanket, would have saved him the use of more than one woolen blanket. Wool insulates because the air in the spaces conducts heat poorly. Paper acts by being impervious to cold currents. In certain locations a paper wall is more effective than a wooden one. It also will be noted that Koons uses large blankets with plenty of edge for tucking in and folding back. Again one paper blanket, would have lessened the weight of cover needed for comfort.

He advises against the use of artificial heaters, stove pipes, hot water bottles and heated bricks, and he is right, at least with the great majority of people.

The sleeping porch should be partially uncovered. On clear, bright nights he has tried hot baths, very little walking, and rest, but they do not disappear. In fact I think that more are appearing, but they do not bother me in any way."

NO HUM! NOBODY SEEKS CONVICT 6394, ANYHOW

Warden, Sheriff, Police
Pass the Buck.

Legally a convict, but with no one in prison him is the present status of Constantine Kuhn, who when arrested in 1919 lived at 4416 Westworth avenue. Though he belongs in the jail, no one knows where he is now, and no one is looking for him. Here is the manner in which various agencies who have to do with Kuhn's fate expressed themselves yesterday.

The warden's attitude—Why should we look after him? We only hunt for convicts. Kuhn is out on bonds. The sheriff's attitude—We took him to the penitentiary. The warden released him and accepted bail. Of course we would pick him up if we had sufficient men to send out to look for him. Up to the warden.

The police department's attitude—We would be within our province to arrest Kuhn if we were notified officially that he was wanted. But we don't know that. Therefore we lack the authority.

The crime commission's attitude—We don't know who should arrest him, we do know that some one ought to.

Served Eighteen Days; Out. Kuhn was released from the penitentiary on bonds after serving eighteen days of a one to fourteen years sentence for assault with intent to commit robbery. The Supreme court granted his release, pending an appeal. The appeal was heard and the sentence affirmed on Dec. 17, 1919. Ordinarily he would have spent Christmas in prison as convict No. 6394, but he was released to return to that institution. Therefore he has remained at the possibly awaiting an invitation to return.

The case was forgotten by all but a crime commission. It sought the aid and encountered a divided responsibility. It was suggested that a bondsman should surrender Kuhn. Effort was made last night to learn identity of the bondsman. The clerk of the penitentiary referred caller to the day clerk. The warden away. Page the bondsman. Deputy Sheriff Raps System. There was a bad system in vogue at time of Kuhn's release," said W. Laubenhimer, chief deputy. "The warden does not now a bondsman. When a prisoner is to be on a writ, he is first returned to an agent and we accept the bail. Then we responsible. Under the old system, were released without our knowledge and taken back under the same conditions."

"Heroic Flagman" Who Lost

Grateful to All Who Helped Him.

JOHN MILLER.

John Miller, the Hubbard Woods flagman who lost a leg and suffered terrible injuries in an effort to save the lives of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tanner, was the recipient of a fine turkey and trimmings from anonymous donors.

"We're glad to see you back on the job," an unsigned note read, "and this little gift is to commemorate your return."

Mr. Miller wishes through THE TRIBUNE to thank the donors, also to thank the countless other persons who contributed money and kindly words during his long convalescence in the Evanston general hospital. He is invariably mentioned as the "heroic flagman."

"I'm not a hero," he protested yesterday. "Please don't call me that. I only did my duty."

They took $15.

ROBERTSON WILL AID SERVICE MEN NEEDING DOCTOR

Commissioner of Health John Dill Robertson has opened his office to any soldier, sailor or marine who wishes to obtain treatment at the hands of the United States public health service. Dr. Robertson will furnish directions regarding how and where to apply for the service.

"The announcement is made for the reason that the United States public health service changes its location from time to time in Chicago," the commissioner's weekly health bulletin declares. "This office is always at 110 City Hall and any soldier, sailor or marine is welcome."

Any veteran may receive care and treatment at a United States hospital within five years of his discharge gratis.

Dr. Robertson states that there are far too many deaths from diphtheria in the city.

"It is too often forgotten that there are both a preventive and a cure for this dread disease," the doctor states. "For the week ended Nov. 26 there were 343 cases and eighteen deaths, while of scarlet fever there were only 143 cases and three deaths."

CHICAGO'S TRADE
OVERSEA BOOSTS
GOTHAM FIGURES

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

New York, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Chicago's foreign trade is given by the federal government at $44,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually.

Until 1871 New York did a bit-and-bit job in constructing a port. In 1871 it began to build a great harbor. It took 40 years to complete. Then it adopted the General Macmillan plan, constructed accordingly and last year its foreign trade reached the total of $10,320,000,000.

That gives Chicago a black eye up to the neck. The federal government compares are not fair to Chicago.

because its system gives credit for shipments to the port of exit or entry.

Gets Chicago's Trade.

Accordingly New York is given the honor in federal government reports for a large part of Chicago's foreign trade. Chicago business is paying toll to seaboard cities on their export and import trade. That may account, in part, for the opposition to the St. Lawrence waterway by members of the New York Merchants' association, of which corresponds in large measure to the Association of Commerce in Chicago.

F. E. St. Austell of the foreign trade department of the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago has made an investigation of Chicago's foreign trade.

He estimates the amount last year at $1,750,000, and predicts that it will be larger when the twelve months of 1920 are added. He desires that the United States government shall adopt the British system of crediting foreign trade to the city of origin and not to the port through which it passes.

Benefits of Waterway.

The Chicago Association of Commerce says the "take-off" on Chicago's foreign trade by middle men on the Atlantic seaboard can be largely eliminated if the St. Lawrence waterway is opened to ocean-going freight steamers. But when this water route is accomplished where will the boats find Chicago's dockage facilities?

New York intends to hold its supremacy. It does not propose to lose any more of its trade than absolutely necessary. At present New York claims 398 commercial piers of an aggregate frontage of 405,440 feet. Of these ninety piers are used by overseas vessels with a docking space of 134,964 feet.

The city has under way the increasing of the ninety piers to 107 for overseas boats. This will bring the dockage up to 169,768.

More Plans Under Way.

In addition the city has other plans in the process of making by which the number of piers for foreign trade are to be boosted to 125, with a total dockage of 200,120 feet. That is a contemplated increase of twelve miles of dock space for overseas vessels alone.

The dock commissioner has reported that three of the piers under construction, costing $641,000, already have been leased and he is busy attempting to obtain permits for three others for which contracts have been let and the construction is in progress.

SCHOOL LEADERS OF FIVE STATES
CONFER TODAY

School superintendents of five states, civic workers, and heads of women's clubs today will attend the opening session of the United States government's regional conference on education at the Hotel La Salle.

The conference aims at an exchange of ideas concerning the education of the nation's youth and to stimulate interest in educational matters. New problems in the schools which have come up since the war, including the shortage of teachers and adequate finances, will be discussed.

Three Conference Today.

Three sessions will be held today. The morning and afternoon meetings will be devoted to public school problems. The evening will be given over to higher educational institutions.

The states to be represented are Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Among the educators who will attend are Superintendent of Schools, St. Paul, Frank Cady of Detroit, R. C. Jones of Cleveland, John W. Withers of St. Louis, and Milton C. Potter of Milwaukee.

Public Invited.

"We want all the people to know about their educational institutions and what is necessary to keep them up to a high standard," Mr. Claxton said last night. "We are anxious to have people get as much information as possible at first hand, and to take part in the discussions. For that reason all citizens are invited to attend."

There will be no set speeches, according to the program. Leaders on each subject will be appointed and discussion and exchange of ideas will follow.

NEGRO ATTORNEY TO BE CROWD AID
AS PROSECUTOR

The support given Mayor William Hale Thompson's state and county ticket by the negro voters on Nov. 2 was recognized yesterday.

James A. Scott, a colored attorney, was appointed as assistant state's attorney by Judge Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney-elect, who takes office a week from today. This is Judge Crowe's first appointment of a prosecutor.

Attorney Scott was a Thompson candidate for judge of the municipal court. He was defeated by Judge George Holmes. He was an assistant state's attorney under the late John E. W. Wayman.

ALL IMMIGRATION CUT OFF FOR A WHILE MARCH 4?

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—If an immigration law is not enacted before March 4 it will be necessary to suspend temporarily the entrance of aliens, according to Representative Johnson, chairman of the house committee on immigration and naturalization. In such an event a final disposition of the matter would be made at the extraordinary session of congress next spring.

The erection of a temporary barrier against foreigners will be demanded, he said, if it is found impossible to pass a general immigration law at the short session. Such stopgap legislation is imperative, Chairman Johnson says, because the passport law expires March 4, and the flood of undesirable after that date must be prevented.

The passport law, which is serving as a partial check to the influx, automatically dies March 4. After that it would be easy for aliens to come into the United States, as the literacy test and certain specified requirements regarding physical fitness are slight restrictions.

In a special report appearing in the current issue of the American Federationist, the official organ of the American Federation of Labor, the legislative committee gives immigration priority over amendments to the transportation act and steps to expand the United States employment service.

TEACHERS URGE USE EDUCATIONAL FILMS IN CHICAGO SCHOOLS

The Teachers' association, in ending a two days' conference at Englewood high school Saturday, studied an exhibition of educational movies, and voted to recommend to their respective school boards that executive action be adopted to incorporate classroom films in the school curriculum.

Eight reels prepared by the Society for Visual Education were shown, and included movies on history, civics, health, sanitation, astronomy, and other subjects.

"These films," said Harley L. Clarke, "are founded on the best principles of pedagogy, and are meeting with response from educators throughout the United States who have learned that the quickest path to the brain is through the eye."

Frederick K. Branon, professor of geography at the Chicago Normal school, and William K. Gregory, head of the Cleveland museum, also spoke in favor of the films.

MEXICAN EXILES POINT PATH TO MEXICAN PEACE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—A remarkable document, prepared and signed by nine members of a group of Mexican political refugees in this country, has just been sent to Mexico, containing an analysis of Mexico's major problems, together with a constructive program for the solution of each question.

The signers of this document are men prominent in former Mexican administrations, none has been identified with the old Cientifico group, and all are ardent patriots. They are: Manuel Calero, minister of foreign affairs and ambassador to Washington under Madero.

Francisco S. Carbajal, Supreme court chief justice in 1913 and president after the overthrow of Huerta.

Juan B. Castellan, prominent in reform movements.

Toribio Esquivel Obregon, Huerta's minister of finance and now Columbia university professor of economics.

José Flores Magón, Madero's minister of the interior and former senator.

Tomas Macmanus, formerly a senator.

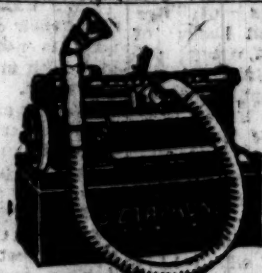

Rafael Martínez Carrillo, former senator.

Miguel Ruelas, formerly a general.

Gorge Vera Estanek, minister of education under Diaz and Huerta.

As one means of making real democracy effective in Mexico they advocate limiting the ballot for federal and state electoral offices to Mexican citizens 21 or more, who have a means of livelihood and can write Spanish. This would eliminate the great mass of illiterate Indians until educated, but they will have a voice in the municipal elections.

Under "educational problem" it is pointed out that approximately 12,000,000 out of the 15,000,000 or 16,000,000 population can neither read nor write, and that the evil of illiteracy

All the heat you want at less cost—a simple problem in arithmetic

Last year perhaps you burned ten tons of coal in a ten radiator steam system. Suppose, by changing the inefficient air valves this year you'd only burn nine. Suppose if in burning these nine tons you could obtain better results from your heating system—would it pay?

Let's assume coal costs you fifteen dollars per ton. That's the average price throughout the country. Let's suppose, again, that you put No. 1 Hoffman Air Valves on your radiators. They cost $2.15 each or $21.50 for the entire system plus labor of installing. You would save at least one ton of coal this year and another next year and the valves would have paid for themselves. That's 50% a year on your investment.

Then another point, the Manufacturer guarantees the satisfactory operation of these Hoffman Valves for 5 years. He allows himself a big factor of safety in making such a guarantee. You can therefore assume that the life of these all-metal valves is at least ten years—and all this time they pay you dividends in coal saving and heat comfort.

Take a tip—they're the best "buy" in the market today. Your local heating contractor is your stock broker—he can deliver and put on this dividend payer for you today. If he can't let us know.

The No. 1 HOFFMAN VALVE

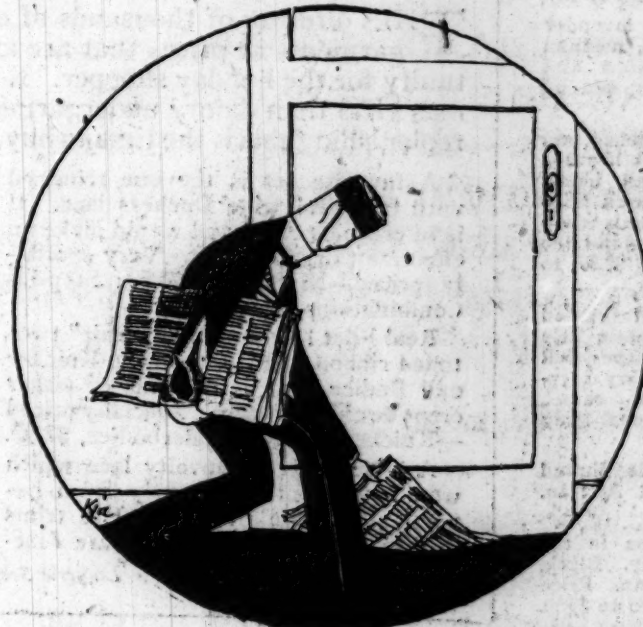

Is noiseless in operation—vents all air freely. Does not hiss steam or drip water. Is automatic in all its functions. Requires no adjustment. Has lots of other features that make it the Perfect Air Valve for ordinary one-pipe steam systems.

Will There Be a Shortage of Automobiles in 1921?

Send for Collier's study of the automobile market, showing sales possibilities for next year

After a careful study of each year's history of the automotive industry since its inception, Collier's believes the 1921 demand will exceed the supply at the present rate of production.

This conviction is founded on a knowledge of the two factors in motor car sales:

1. Replacements—new cars for old
2. New Car-Buyers

The first great demand for automobiles will be the demand resulting from the replacement of cars.

There will be a market from this source alone of approximately

1,500,000 Cars

At the present rate of automobile production there is likely to be a car shortage during the big spring selling season.

Buy Your 1921 Car Now

Send for these conclusions and see why

The results of Collier's study of the automotive market have been put in chart form. They clearly show the tendency of the replacement market—how to approximate the number of replacements, the number of old models still running—the relation between annual increase in registration and annual production.

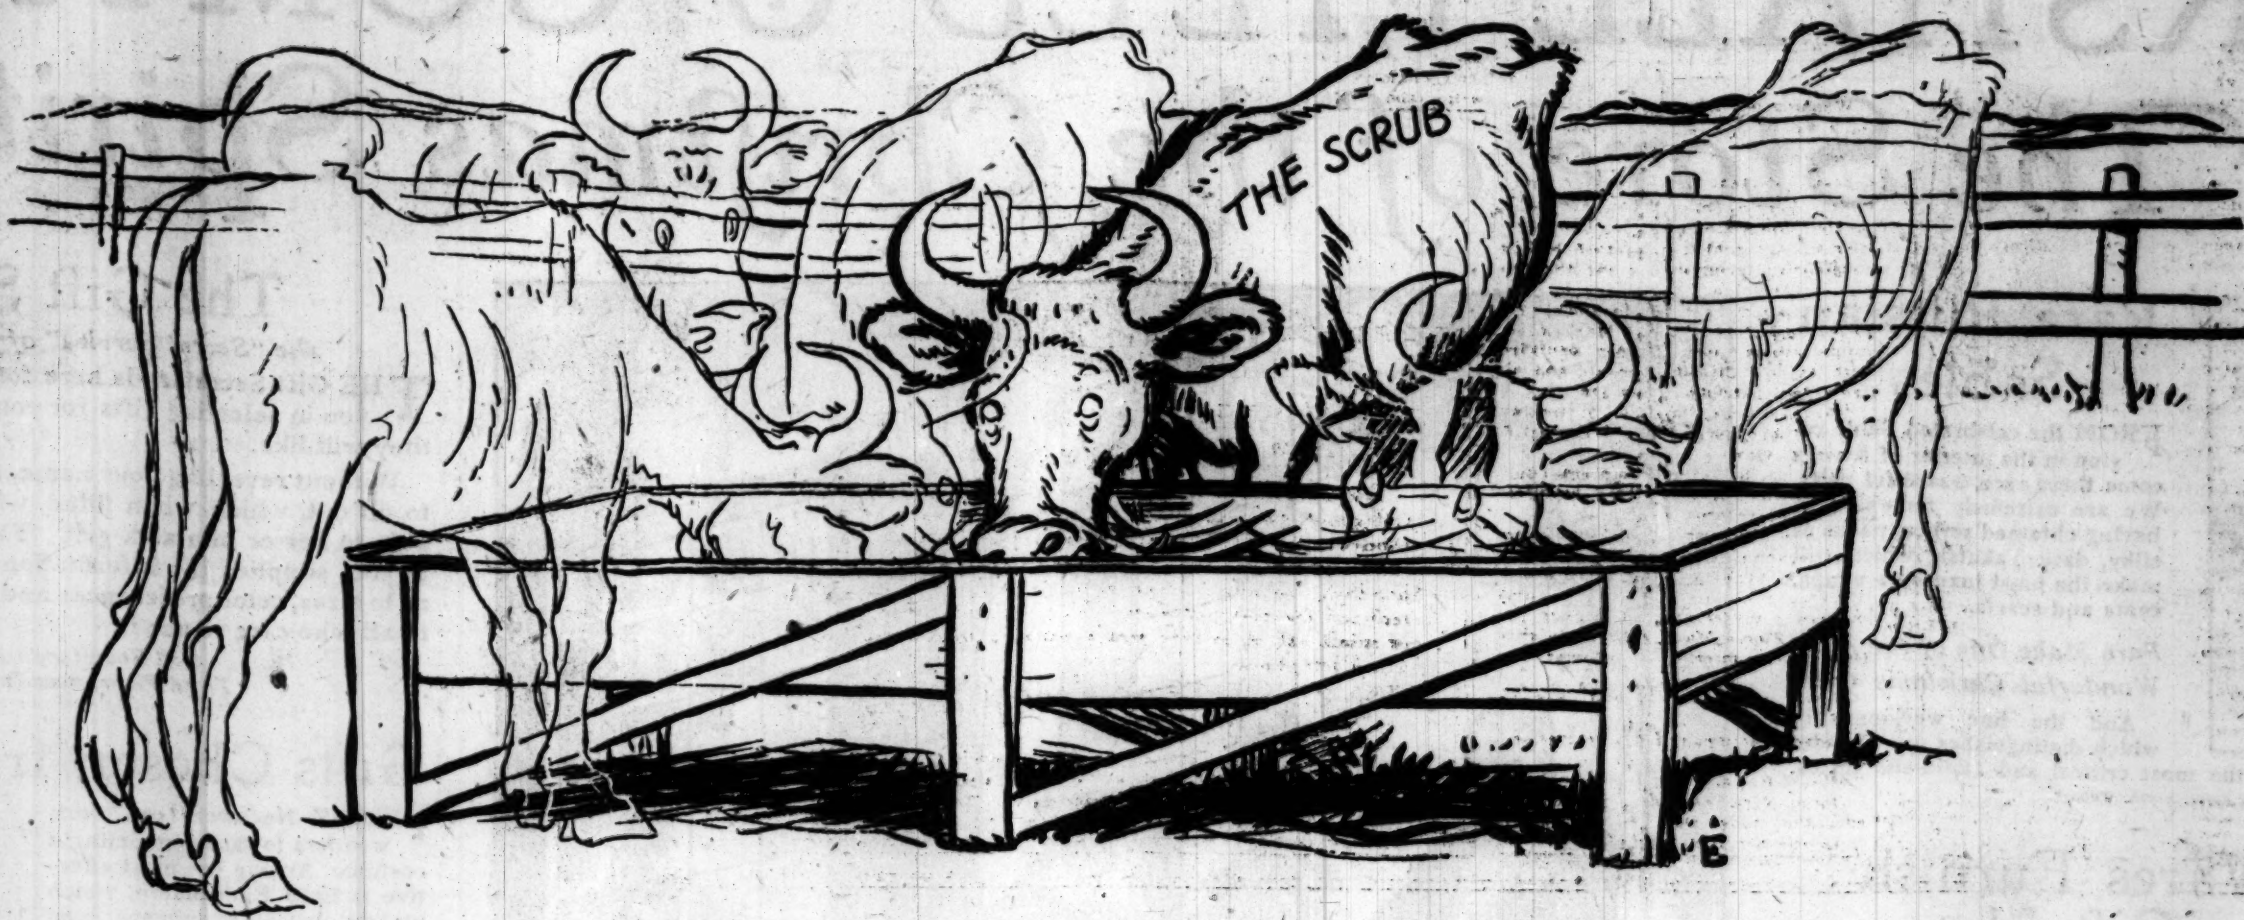

Automotive manufacturers, automotive dealers, bankers, holders of automotive securities and car owners will find valuable information in these charts. Ask for them.

Feeding the Ghosts

WHEN a stockman feeds a scrub, ghosts of the scrub's neglected and starved ancestors share his food with him. Fanciful as this may sound, it is none the less true.

A pure-bred always shows more gain in tender, well-flavored meat from 100 pounds of feed, because, with generations of good breeding and good feeding back of him, he is haunted by none of the scrub's ghosts.

The pure-bred in the feed pen is an economy to the stockman. From the pure-bred come the choicest steaks, the juiciest roasts, at the lowest cost to the consumer. This is the lesson which progressive farmers and thoughtful consumers will learn from the

International Livestock Exposition

ONE hundred thousand stockmen from all over the United States and Canada and beyond are expected in Chicago this week. Thousands of the most valuable pure-bred animals anywhere in the world are here—the Grand Champions of all the breeds. Prizes amounting to about $110,000 will be awarded to the exhibitors. Brilliant evening entertainments are leading features of this educational week of agricultural exhibits.

These farmers are in the highly constructive business of breeding animals that produce meat of the highest quality with the lowest cost of time and feed. Producer and consumer alike will be best served when more farmers breed pure-breds and feed them where they are bred—especially as long as city folks tolerate a marketing system that interposes so many handlers between producer and consumer and which pays the farmer so little and charges the housewife so much.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is glad to speak for these farmers and to urge you to become better acquainted with the progressive leaders in a business which is the consumer's hope for good meat and the farmer's hope for good farming. Visit their Stock Show and you will find them big, broad, thoughtful, 100% Americans. These are not idle opinions. Our editors and contributors travel 300,000 miles a year to study farming and stock raising.

The better farmer reads the better kind of farm paper. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is that kind. Its Illinois yearly subscribers now number 84% more than they did a year ago. If you are now a reader you know its frequent helpful articles about the pure-breds and its many inspiring fact stories of successful feeders and breeders who have put their communities "on the map." If you are not a subscriber let us enroll you along with the heads of 725,000 other forward-looking homes, to whom it comes every week bringing hope and courage, helps and smiles—all for only $1.00 the year by mail. Yes, your check is good!

On this sort of service is the one big National Weekly of Profitable Farming built. From this sort of experience it voices the opinions of farmers of the Mid-West, the Far West, the North, the East, the South.

SALE OF STUDIO BUILDING STIRS ARTISTS' COLONY

Roar of Protest Against Moving Goes Up.

BY MAUDE MARTIN ELLIS.

Because the Shriners, owning the Madison temple at Cass and Ohio streets, have purchased the Tree studio building which adjoins the temple on the east side, 100 artists will be forced to move.

Whether the studios are to be torn down or used as club rooms for the Shriners is immaterial, the artists say. They hold the fact that the Tree studios are to be sacrificed is a matter which could touch civic pride.

The Tree building was built by Judge Lambert Tree in 1895 for the needs and purposes and the exclusive use of artists. It was a copy of a studio building on Madison avenue in New York and the only building of its kind that Chicago artists have ever had.

The rentals have been kept low. Credit for this is given by artists to the agents of the Tree estate, Howard and Charles Gray, who have kept the interests of art in mind during the insatiation of living costs.

Large Art Schools for City.

Chicago has one of the largest art schools in the world. At the Art Institute there is an annual enrollment of 8,000 students, and an annual average of the students at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts can be placed at 800.

These people who graduate are forced to leave Chicago because they cannot find a place where they may work and live.

"They go to New York and become a valuable unit—or they scatter abroad. The housing of almost every other profession is recognized and provided for. What is of more commercial interest to the city than the artists?"

"Sixty per cent of the interest of an advertisement is in the designing which accompanies it. The very furnishings that go into a home, rugs, chairs, tables, curtains, even linens, are designed by the artist. Every manufacturing plant that produces anything has to have hundreds of designs to see that the proper cultural effect of an art center on a community."

"And what are we busy doing?" "Tearing down the only structure in which it is possible for the artist to produce."

Others Voice Protests.

Hear what others who live in the Tree building have to say!

"The first and obvious impression is to move from Chicago," said Anna Lynch, a well known painter. "It would behoove the commercial interests of this city that proper buildings be put up for the artists."

Pauline Palmer, famous for her portrait, said:

"I am heartbroken. Many of my friends are considering whether they shall live in New York or remain in Chicago. A friend of mine, a well known painter, has been storing his furniture for three years hoping for a place where she can paint and at the same time live. I have lived a good many years in this building and (Tribune Photo.)"

Old Tenants Object.

Edward Cameron, with his wife, Marie G. Cameron, who is a well known portrait painter was interrupted as he was finishing two murals 14 feet high, "Where else in Chicago can I get a place to do work like this?" he asked.

The Camerons have leased their studio for more than twenty-four years. John and Anna Stacey, too, have lived and painted in their spacious apartment twenty-two years. Said Mr. Stacey:

"It's a mighty strange economic situation in Chicago that allows a building of this character to be torn down and used for public entertainment. Why, they might as well tear down a wing of the Art Institute. It is a calamity to turn a body of artists into the streets."

Sculptor Too Busy to Move.

Albin Polasek, one of Chicago's best known sculptors, who has won the $1,500 Logan prize, waved his hands. "I am mad about it—I have much to do and no time to think of moving—and where can I go?" he said. "There is no place in Chicago. I'll tell you one thing, these people who are buying this building are non-productive and we are producing."

Following are some other familiar personages who will be displaced: Emil Zettler, Wellington J. Reynolds, Indiana Gyerson, Arvid Nyholm, Gerold Frank, Martin Hennings, Salcia Bahne, Allen St. John, Louis Grell, Mel Tibbitts and Jarvis Hunt, well known architect.

"CINDERELLA ON BROADWAY"

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

ALTHOUGH the new revue at the Studebaker is subtitled "a fantasy of the new White Way," you do not fully realize the felicity of that promise until several minutes after the proceedings begin.

You feel, merely, that you are attending one of those things chronic at the Winter Garden, N. Y., a feverish rush of Broadway belles in the whimsical harness of extravaganzas, with routine tableaux, songs, dancing and clowns. But are you become reconciled to the customary lost trot Mr. Al Brendel appears, a new harlequin recruited from the varieties, and informs you that this is not to be an other evening's act.

Mr. Brendel wears funny clothing and has an extensive repertoire of grimace. Upon his wrist is a large clock, the hands of which he holds aloft, exclaiming in a rich Norse dialect, that "time hangs heavy on his hands." You have scarcely completed your laughter at this apt observation before he flashes upon you another "nifty" to employ the argot of the comedians. He is asked by his confederate, Miss Flo Blunt, a hand, some though somewhat nostril, con- traito, to distinguish the difference between ammonia and pneumonia. Then does the fact burst upon you that you are attending a fantasy of the Great White Way. "Ammonia," says Mr. Brendel, "comes in bottles; pneumonia in chests." Imagine, if you can, your sensation when later Mr. Brendel removes his pants during a comic scene?

One finds it more satisfactory in crises of this kind to report the larger pleasures of one's fellow auditors. Thus another gladness occurred when Miss Alexandra Dagmar, impersonating with brutal success, the absent Miss Marie Dressler, was accused by her hostess of having nicked a diamond lavalliere. She claimed in the loud trumpeting of the musical comedy diplo- mat that she had been insulted. "Where," inquired a convenient inquirer, "where did she insult you?" And Miss Dagmar made surprising and amusing answer that she had been insulted somewhere between the fish and the olives. I shall excite you with but one other quotation from this delectable anthology of bright remarks. When the chorus sang a deliberate parody for Cinderella's midnight, Mr. John T. Murray, ever alert to say something good, when something good should be said, requests silence while he announces "One o'clock."

However, this "Cinderella on Broadway" is not at all a bad Shubert show. It is much better than some others. Usually a Shubert chorus when it gets this far west, is of the sort that after an act or two you say: "Well, I see one that isn't so bad," and you're companion next to you says "where?" Before the play is over you discover that what you regarded in the first act as a hare lip is only a labial dimple, and that a knock-knee is but an esthetic curve. The chorus in "Cinderella on Broadway" is very good, indeed, as to appearance, so long as it remains upon the stage, and even after it ventures the precarious propriety of the runway, you fan, if you are expert, address your eyes over an hour and a half.

The clothes of "Cinderella on Broadway" are the wild and costly exclamations of the Shuberts' frenetic tailors. They are as a rule, easier to look at than are their contents. Most of the personal beauty in this large spectacle is confined to Miss Vivien Oakland, a slim, chill, black, red, and white, as a rule, whose freshly retouched belongs in a less riotous environment; and to the painted child who plays Cinderella with spurious curls and complexions.

Miss Lora Hoffman, who used to make the boys so happy at the Khaki and Blue club on the Lake Front with her songs, is as melodious now as she was then, as is, it is nice to say, fully as successful. Mr. Al Sexton, who, so far as I know, is the best of the American dancers, does his stint in this counterfeited Cinderella gracefully and without offense.

"Cinderella on Broadway" is a great, big honka-tonk, and they were wild about it last night at the Studebaker. Among the pleasantest of the present, last evening was Mr. Al Johnson, who undertook the rigorous railroad path between here and Cleveland to hear Tito Ruffo sing with the Chicago Opera company yesterday afternoon. It was a company when, when the scene-monster became mixed up in the second act, delaying the spectacle, told the stage hands to cut the ropes; which they did after many minutes of delay.

Scottish Societies Hold Annual Church Service

SOULFUL KISS; O BLISS! BUT IT HIDES GEM THEFT

Being a Tale of How Mrs. De Woody Was Robbed.

There have been kisses—and kisses. Down through the years the poets have sung of burning embraces, authors have put them in climaxes, and playwrights have hung their "big moments" on the meeting of a pair of lips. Perhaps nations have crumbled, perhaps time has melted away, but the kiss remains.

But Lieut. John Loftus, once of the detective bureau but now of the Summerdale police station, tells of a kiss that cost $5,000. The intrinsic value of the embrace was recovered by the police, but, according to Lieut. Loftus, $5,000 would have been the cost but for the bluecoats.

The woman in the case, according to the police tale, is Mrs. Helen De Woody, 1424 Olive street, a divorcee. She is the niece of Charles F. De Woody, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice in Chicago.

Cast of Characters.

One of the men—the one of the de- fusing occupation—is Edgar C. Erickson, proprietor of a clothing store at Armitage and Milwaukee avenues. Another actor in the drama is Edward J. Ader, an attorney. There are two others—Lee Corey, 3412 Dickens avenue, and one who shall be known as "the Hoodlum."

It has been recorded in these columns that Mrs. De Woody accused Erickson of stealing $5,000 worth of jewels. He in turn accused Ader. Mr. Corey was also implicated, and all three were arrested. Most of Mrs. De Woody's jewels are in the hands of Lieut. Loftus. And this is how it happened.

"Hoodlum" Tells of Robbery.

"I caught a young hoodlum out on the west side," said Lieut. Loftus yesterday. "He had a key in his pocket. I asked him where he got it. He told me Eddie Ader gave it to him. I asked him why."

"Then he told me that he had framed the robbery with Ader. 'I was to go to the house, open the door, walk into the bedroom, take the jewels off the dresser, and beat it,' the boy told me."

He admitted that he carried out the plan. He told me that Erickson was in the house at the time and that Mrs. De Woody was there. I talked to Erickson about it.

"And Erickson admitted to me that he covered the woman's ears with his hands and kissed her, while the hoodlum came into the room and stole the jewels. Some kiss, eh?"

The lieutenant's story broke off into a loud laugh.

The telephone rang in Mrs. De Woody's apartment for over an hour last night. It was not answered.

OSBORNE TELLS OF REFORMS IN THREE PRISONS

"When we got the men to discussing right and wrong in Auburn prison as a direct result of the time that Osborne last night, speaking in Kimball Hall under the auspices of the Unitarian League."

The telephone league was so named by the prisoners who formed the league and conduct it. (Photo by U. & L.)

Three prisons in which the league has been fostered have shown wonderful results, according to Mr. Osborne. In the Portsmouth Naval prison, where 6,852 men passed under his supervision, there were but eight escapes and eight attempted escapes in two years and seven months, he said.

Mr. Osborne's topic sought to show that the prisoner's code of loyalty to his pals was an application of his religion to his daily life. He said that when he went to Portsmouth Naval prison there were 170 prisoners and 180 guards, and when he left, under Mutual Welfare league guidance following the war, though there were 1,700 prisoners there were no guards.

"The league has been in successful operation in Auburn prison for seven years, in 'Sing Sing' for six years."

YOU'LL HAVE TO HAND IT TO THE WIFE

EIGHT INJURED IN REAR-END CRASH OF STREET CARS

Collision Occurs Under Viaduct.

One man was seriously injured, seven others hurt and twelve more shaken up when a Lake street car, hurrying to the barns, crashed into the rear of a stalled northbound Cicero avenue car under the Kinzie street viaduct last evening.

Frank S. Howarth, 1620 Ballou street, motorman of the Lake street car, was the most dangerously hurt. His right leg was fractured and he suffered internal injuries.

Others Injured.

The others injured were all passengers in the Cicero avenue car. They were:

GERHARD EDGREN, 4728 Grace street, right leg fractured.

JOHN EDWARDS, 2018 North Kammerling avenue, bruised and bruised.

AL BARNACKER, 2924 North Kammerling avenue, bruised and shaken up.

E. BENSON, 1138 North Walker avenue, cut.

In addition, two men said to have been seriously injured were taken away in a Yellow cab before their names could be learned.

The Cicero avenue car had become stalled under the viaduct when the trolley slipped off the wire and lodged between it and a safety guard. A pyrotechnic display ensued, which Detective Sergeant Charles Weiling of the detective bureau, who was on his way home, sought to remedy by pulling the trolley down. His clothing was burned by the sparks.

Tried to Flag Car.

Alfred Schriell, 4944 West Huron street, motorman of the car, saw the approach of the Lake street car, which witnesses declare was running at full speed. He sought to flag it. The detective added a frantic waving of his handkerchief. Howarth did not see the stalled car until it was too late to stop.

Both vestibules were crushed in. The fire department had to be called upon to extricate Howarth.

Traffic was delayed an hour and one-half before the railway's wrecking crew could pry the cars apart.

Former Blacksmiths' Union President Drops Dead

Edward T. Mahoney, 56 years old, 543 West Forty-seventh street, a blacksmith in the employ of the city street department, died while talking to friends in front of 165 North La Salle street yesterday. Heart disease was the supposed cause. He was formerly president and financial secretary of Blacksmiths', Forgers and Casters' union No. 122.

BEG YOUR PARDON

An article in yesterday's TRIBUNE, recording the death of Aloysius Gilbride from injuries incurred in an auto accident, stated the machine driven by Frank Walldorf, chauffeur for A. C. McCord, struck the car in which Gilbride was riding. Mr. McCord says his machine was standing still, and was hit by the other car.

AUTO INJURIES KILL ONE; THREE MORE ARE HURT

Automobile Killings, 534 in Chicago in 1920, 534

Dennis Harrington, 50 years old, 530 West Forty-sixth street, died Saturday night of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile on Nov. 24. Carl Greenfield, 344 West Ninth street, driver of the car, was not held.

Tony Widlo, 9, of 2748 Park avenue, suffered concussion of the brain when the automobile owned by Mat Schaffer, 2208 North Kedzie avenue, and driven by the latter's young son, Isador, ran into him at California avenue and Washington boulevard.

Alex Dorga, 45, of 1867 Blue Island avenue, suffered a possible fracture of the skull when his automobile crashed into a Racine avenue car at Roosevelt road yesterday.

Lester Cahill, 12 years old, 1310 North La Salle street, was struck by a Checker taxicab at Goethe and North La Salle streets last night and suffered a fractured skull and fractures of the left hip and leg. Matthew Schulberg, 1412 South Asland avenue, the driver, is being held.

This 'Feller Needs a Friend to Make Him an 'O, Man'

It's tough when your left side is paralyzed and you've been in bed for seven years and you're finally become strong enough to take a night watchman's job and earn a little money to pay for a small poultry farm somewhere in the country—yes, it's sort of tough if you lose $75 while riding to work. That's what happened to G. W. Wright of 6333 Harper avenue. He says he once was a building contractor with $35,000 in the bank. He was going to make a payment on his farm this week. Now he hasn't even enough for the rent. The money was lost on a Thirty-fifth street car.

Rail Unions Plead Today for Arbitration Boards

Representatives of the sixteen recognized railway labor unions are expected here today to make a final plea to the railway labor board to reestablish the three national boards of adjustment abolished when the roads were taken from federal control.

2 HELD; POLICE SEEK 3D AFTER AUTO SHOOTING

Victim Names "John Burke."

A man and a woman are being held by the Cottage Grove avenue police, and a John Burke is sought in connection with the shooting of Joseph Geiser, 24 years old, 3927 Ellis avenue, Saturday night. Geiser was standing in front of the Schiller car at East Thirty-first and South Park avenue, and was shot by one of three men in an automobile.

Geiser was visited last night at the Michael Reese hospital by his brother, who learned that his assailant is known to Geiser as "John Burke."

Geiser told the police that he was standing on the sidewalk when the car with John Burke and several other persons drove up to the curb. He started to step on the running board of the car and was immediately fired at by one of the occupants, he said.

Geiser was wounded twice in the abdomen and was taken to the hospital, where his condition is serious.

Lieut. Luke Garrick of the Cottage Grove avenue station refused to give out the names of the two persons the police are holding or what their connection with the case is.

The police also questioned Geiser's brothers, George and Arthur, whom they arrested at 3604 Calumet avenue. George Geiser, the police say, has a criminal record.

Another of the occupants of the automobile from which the shots were fired is said to be a man of the name of John West.

George Melbride, 42, of 553 West Lake street, suffered a possible skull fracture when he was assaulted near Halsted and Monroe streets late Saturday night. At the county hospital he refused to talk. He will recover.

SEEK IDENTITY OF JAP'S BODY FOUND IN LAKE

Oriental inscriptions on a gold watch form the only clue to the identity of a well-dressed Japanese whose body was found floating in Lake Michigan yesterday an hour after pedestrians had seen him running up and down the shore at Lawrence avenue.

Herman Cokke looked from the window of his apartment at 811 Lawrence avenue yesterday morning and saw an object floating in the lake several hundred yards from shore. He called the Summerdale police, who recovered the body.

At Kianer's undertaking rooms, 4717 Broadway, where the body was taken, no marks of violence were found on it. It is possible poison may have been the cause of death and an examination will be made by the coroner's physician.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

When are you going to do your Christmas shopping?

Where Asked.

On Dearborn street between Madison and Monroe streets.

The Answers.

Miss Eleanor Johnson, 7216 Rhodes avenue, stenographer, said: "I started Christmas shopping the first of November, principally to avoid the rush, and, as I believe, prices are inflated closer to Christmas. I can pick better presents when I have more time. I also make presents. Therefore I must shop early—to get the material."

Carl Van Laaten, 6109 St. Lawrence avenue, vice president, Merchants Chemical Co.—"My wife does most of the Christmas shopping, and of course she has not yet informed me what her desires are; but I have a good hunch. And consider the cost of said hunch—I hope Santa Claus will be good to me."

Miss Helen H. Hart, 2918 Parnell avenue, private secretary.

"I start out tomorrow to purchase my presents, and my intention is to buy something each day. I have my presents listed, which, I think, is a good idea, as it is such a time saver."

Roderick H. O'Connor, 526 Roscoe street, lawyer.—"I'm shopping every day now to avoid the rush and get a better selection. There's more time to look things over. If every one would do as I, the shop girls would appreciate Christmas to a greater extent."

Sigita Larson, 1829 Kimball avenue, secretary.—"I am starting my Christmas shopping today, because last year I started late and the selection of presents was not at all suitable. Of course they were the best that could be obtained, but I feel I could have done much better had I started earlier."

Frat Man Who Died After Party Was Not Poisoned

D. Harris Cook, Northwestern university law student, who died Nov. 25 after a fraternity party, died of acute alcoholism, according to the report yesterday by Coroner's Chemist W. D. McNally, who examined the organs.

No trace of poison was found.

TRAP ROBBERS' GANG; CLEAR UP 100 MYSTERIES

Police Net 200 in a New Series of Raids.

The police roundup, Saturday night of 200 criminals, gamblers, and pool-room habitués resulted, according to Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes, in clearing the mystery surrounding more than 100 robberies committed within the last four months.

Six men taken into custody after an alleged attempt to hold up the Pierce Drug company's store at Garfield boulevard and State street were said to have confessed being ring-leaders of a gang of twenty-five. They are Thomas Doody, Ed Kurts, William Shannon, and Donald Minnehan.

Detective Sergeant Nicholas Hughes, son of the chief, Edward Murphy, John Dratton, and William Cusack were touring the "back of the yards" district. They saw an automobile drive up to the Pierce store. Four men got out. When they saw the police machine they ran. The detectives gave chase, shooting at them. The men returned the fire and escaped.

Capture Fifteen Alleged Gunmen.

A police cordon was thrown around the district bounded by Forty-seventh and Garfield boulevards and Wentworth and Asland avenues. The result was the capture of fifteen alleged gunmen. Among them were the six.

Birmingham was cornered by Sergeant Cusack, but dropped his revolver and surrendered. He was identified later as one of three holdup men who robbed James Mahoney, a butcher at Fifty-second street and Wentworth avenue a few hours earlier.

Kurts was identified as one of the bandits who held up two confectionery stores near Fifty-fifth street and Asland avenue. It was from him that Chief Hughes first obtained a confession.

The chief was reticent about what he learned, but said that it was "one of the most startling disclosures we have obtained since we started our raids."

Even Rob Friends.

"This gang hung out around Garfield boulevard, Shields avenue, Halsted street, and Wentworth avenue," said the chief. "They even robbed their friends, who were afraid to report the crimes. They specialized on confectionery stores, poolrooms, cabarets, and saloons, as well as pedestrians."

The robber band, the chief declared, is responsible for most of the recent holdups and robberies in the Stock Yards, New City, Hyde Park, Englewood, and Woodlawn police districts.

The names and addresses of every member of the gang is said to have been obtained by the chief.

Chief Pleaded with Result.

Meanwhile Chief Fitzmorris' smashing drive against the criminal element continued unabated. Special attention was paid to poolrooms, cabarets and saloons. The chief expressed pleasure at the results of last night's drive and declared that if he is successful in fighting writs of habeas corpus, the bonding trust and "fixers" he will make Chicago the most unhealthy place for criminals in the world.

At a mansion at 3427 South Michigan avenue, a spectacular raid netted seven men, among them Nick the Greek, whose smartly tailored person yielded $31,000.

The police had to break down the door to gain an entrance. Seven men were seated at a banquet on the first floor. Crap tables and roulette wheels were found.

PRETTY GIRL, 16, LURED FROM HER HOME BY WOMAN

"You are too pretty to work. Come with me and you won't have to," Mrs. "Pinky" King, visiting the home of John Barger at 740 North Wells street, thus lured away his 16 year old daughter, Lorraine. Last Tuesday morning Mrs. King and the girl left the Barger home and have not been seen since.

"My daughter is a good girl," the father told Lieut. Bartholomew Fleming of East Chicago avenue station last night, "but we know little about Mrs. King. I am afraid my girl will come to some harm."

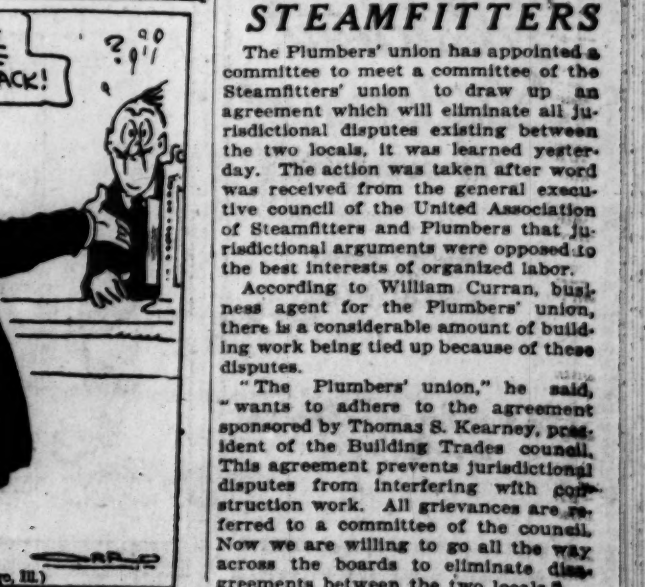

The police believe the woman and girl may have gone to Los Angeles to break into the "movies."

PLUMBERS SEEK PEACE WITH THE STEAMFITTERS

The Plumbers' union has appointed a committee to meet a committee of the Steamfitters' union to draw up an agreement which will eliminate jurisdictional disputes existing between the two locals. It was learned yesterday. The action was taken after word was received from the general executive council of the United Association of Steamfitters and Plumbers that jurisdictional arguments were opposed to the best interests of organized labor.

According to William Curran, highest agent for the Plumbers' union, there is a considerable amount of building work being tied up because of these disputes.

"The Plumbers' union," he said, "wants to adhere to the agreement sponsored by Thomas S. Kearney, president of the Building Trades council. This agreement prevents jurisdictional disputes from interfering with construction work. All grievances are referred to a committee of the council. Now we are willing to go all the way across the boards to eliminate disagreements between the two locals."

THE GUMPS—AND THE BABY LAUGHED OUT LOUD

TIGERS BEST OF
EASTERN TEAMS,
THINKS MAXWELL

BY ROBERT MAXWELL

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Five eastern football teams finished the season with clean slates this year, and for that reason only five are claiming the championship.

Never before has the competition been so keen or the teams so evenly matched. Princeton, Harvard, Penn State, and Boston College were not defeated in the 1920 season. Each has a claim on the championship and a lot of fans will back it up. However, there should be no doubt as to who deserves the honor. Princeton had the best team in the east, with Harvard a close second. Here is how the first eleven teams finished:

- | | |
|-------------------------|-------------------|
| 1. Princeton. | 6. Syracuse. |
| 2. Harvard. | 7. Dartmouth. |
| 3. Pitt and Penn State. | 8. Yale. |
| 4. Boston College. | 9. Lafayette. |
| 5. Navy. | 10. Pennsylvania. |

Tigers Had Tough Schedule.
Princeton played through a strenuous schedule. The team did all that was expected of it, and it was good enough to beat anyone in the final game when Yale was defeated by the score of 20 to 0. Bill Eber had a resourceful, well coached team, and eleven, and this could be seen in every game.

Beginning with Swarthmore, the Tigers took on Maryland, the team which later beat Syracuse, Washington and Lee, the Navy, West Virginia, Harvard and Yale. Victories were scored in all but the Harvard game, which ended in a 14 to 14 deadlock. The Tigers had a harder schedule than either Yale or Harvard, and deserve a higher ranking.

Crimson Played Safe.
Harvard had a conservative schedule, but this was arranged because of the Centre college game Oct. 23. The southerners were expected to put up a hard fight, which happened to be a good guess, and no chances were taken before that game. After it was over, more easy games were scheduled because the coaches had to be careful of the men for the Princeton and Yale game.

Pittsburgh and Penn State cannot be ranked lower than third. There are many who place State ahead of Harvard and Princeton, but Besdek's team played two games in which it had narrow escapes and emerged with the score.

Pittsburgh had the hardest schedule of all the eastern colleges. Every game was a hard one and not once were the colors trailed in the dust.

Pitt and State deserve a high ranking, and I am putting both in third place.

WILCE PICKS UP NEW TRICKS TO EMPLOY IN
OHIO'S COAST BATTLE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

When Ohio State, western conference football champion, goes west to meet the University of California eleven at Pasadena, on New Year's day it is probable the Buckeyes will be fortified with offensive formations not seen in their contests with other Big Ten eleven.

Shortly after Ohio's victory over Illinois, Jack Wilce, Buckeye coach, went east to see the clinch between Penn State and Pittsburg and the annual Army and Navy struggle.

While Coach Wilce may have come on a pleasure jaunt, it is likely he took the trip to increase his football knowledge.

The Ohio coach is a smart mentor. He believes a lot of football can be learned through observation and he knew the two big eastern games would show the best they had in the east. As a result, Wilce will return to Columbus with some first hand information about offensive and defensive football.

Set on Coast Victory.

Having won the Big Ten title, Coach Wilce will work his men just as hard to win the big intersectional contest.

Ohio already has a strong combined open and close attack and this offense will be strengthened by the plays Wilce is certain to bring back from the east.

The University of California eleven has been developed by Andy Smith, former University of Pennsylvania player who coached football at Purdue.

When his playing days were over, Smith became an assistant mentor at the Quaker institution. Then he came to the middle west. Since going to the coast, Andy has developed strong teams, but this year's eleven is the first to win the coast title.

Westerners Face Big Task.

Having coached in the middle west, Smith probably has a fair idea of the caliber of football played in this section. Whether he has a good knowledge of Ohio's system seems improbable, as Wilce's open attack is much farther advanced than it was a year ago. In addition Ohio has a powerful smashing offense which may cause the coast eleven some trouble.

The game is certain to attract attention from middle west gridiron fans. Eastern enthusiasts also will watch the result closely because of Smith's former affiliations with Penn. It is understood Ohio will start practice Dec. 4 and leave for the coast two weeks later.

Coach Wilce saw the Harvard-Oregon game last year at Pasadena and is aware of the conditions out there. He realizes his men must be taken west well in advance of the contest to become acclimated.

Brickies Defeat Simmons Kickers at Kenosha, 2-0

The Bricklayer soccer team eliminated the Simmons team of Kenosha from the national cup competition at Kenosha yesterday, defeating them 2-0 in a hard fought contest. Yesterday's win was the eighth of the season for the Bricklayers, and they have yet to admit defeat. Chuck Dixon scored the first goal of the match early in the second chapter from a penalty kick, and Johnny Politt made marker No. 2 about ten minutes from the finish.

Other results:

Harvey, 2; Thistles, 1.

Sweden-Americans, 4; Norweth-Americans, 0.

Gary, 4; Alverno Maroons, 3.

Victoria, 1; North Shore, 1.

Rochelle Eleven Defeats Dixon Legion Team, 3 to 0

Dixon, Ill., Nov. 28.—The Dixon Legion football team played off the tie game of last Sunday with Rochelle Legionnaires today and went down in defeat, 3 to 0. Both teams had loaded up with former college stars for the game, and the rivalry between the two towns drew a record breaking crowd, who were treated to a clean and hard fought exhibition.

McCoy-Nolan Eleven Wins Milwaukee Amateur Title

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 28.—The McCoy-Nolan amateur football champion-ship today by defeating the Mitchell A. C. eleven, 7 to 0. The two teams were the survivors of an original field of thirty contestants. The game was thirty minutes before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed an amateur battle here.

Johnny Mostil Near Top in Association Averages

American association batting averages made public yesterday show Johnny Mostil, who played with the Brewers and is an asset of the White Sox, knocking the pill for an average of .318 in 145 games.

STALEYS OF DECATUR
GIVEN FIRST DEFEAT
BY CARDINALS, 7-6

The Staleys of Decatur, claiming the mid-west pro title, met their first reverse of the season yesterday when they tackled the local Cardinals at Normal park. The local club won, 7 to 6, after a thrilling battle.

The down-staters, big favorites to win, started as if the battle were going to be a sweep. They scored on the first kickoff. The ball was touched by a Cardinal player who let it get away.

Bob Koehler came charging down the field, swooped up the pigskin and continued twenty yards to a touchdown. Hugh Blacklock missed the goal.

The Cardinals battled desperately the rest of the half trying to offset their opponent's advantage, but without success, once being held for downs on the Staleys' five yard line.

Right at the outset of the third period the Cards got the break that decided the outcome. A fumble by a Staley back on the visitor's 20 yard line was recovered by Sachs, who scooted across the goal. Paddy Driscoll, who was the big star of the game, then booted the goal from touchdown for the deciding point. Lineup:

A Woman Producer Proves That Males Don't Know It All

"TO PLEASE ONE WOMAN."
Produced by Paramount.
Directed by Lois Weber.
Presented at the Randolph.

THE CAST.
Alice Granville.....Claire Windsor
Her Flirty Sister.....Edith Cressler
The Doctor.....Edward Barnes
The Yachtman.....Howard Gay
Pretty.....George Backstrom

By Mae Tinee.

Before I proceed at all, I want to say that that last may not be right. I got it over a noisy telephone Saturday afternoon, and some of the names sounded funny to me. If I have made any radical errors I'll reprint it again shortly—if you want me to.

A lot depends on the director. With "The Miracle Man" and "Dinty," he is remarked straight from the heart and shoulder that in "To Please One Woman," Lois Weber—a woman—has done a splendid job and deserves a good deal of credit for her manipulation of a story which, in unskilled hands, wouldn't really have amounted to much at all.

The picture has an object and a moral. It shows up a beautiful, unscrupulous, and selfish woman to a fairly well-depicted in clear but not hysterical fashion the deplorable effect such a woman's whims and fancies may have on the lives of those about her, and finally, brethren, shows the fall of Babylon. In other words, gives a like-like picture of the lady getting her.

and everybody's glad. For she's a girl!

The cast is peopled with folk you don't know remarkably well, but will be more than that. The photography is excellent. The sets are well chosen and sumptuous. The picture, which was plenty to tell, does not damn itself by being too long.

In other words, quoth she, "To Please One Woman" is a film to see. See it!

SCREEN NOTE

"The Linder" will appear in four complete yearly, according to his contract signed with Robertson-Cole. The first will be entitled "Seven Years' Bad Luck." It'd just love to see Harold Lloyd do that, wouldn't you? Or have (written on Lew Cody.)

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

Track Blue Book U. S. Pat. Co.

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—(Special correspondence.)—For blouses and afternoon frocks nothing exceeds the vogue for crepe de chine. As a rule, too, this lovely, pliable fabric comes in soft and delicate colorings. Gray, for example, is pervasive in crepe de chine garments, and the contrast is supplied by beads, embroidery, and applications of other materials.

The flock of dove gray crepe de chine illustrated here is notable for several new tricks. First, an odd black satin collar sends forth ambassadors of black satin ribbon to the hem of the plaited skirt. Black and gray are a pet color alliance of the season, and the mission of the ribbon is here aided by jet beads. Second, is a cape-back forming the sleeves and taking away the primness of line which afflicts so many of our new creations.

Altogether, both color and form supply admirable guides in making a "different" kind of afternoon frock.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Auntie Dee, Tribune, Chicago.

Alice was staying with her father one evening while her mother was away. The father, while reading, was wiggling the floor lamp, and Alice spoke up: "You know mamma does not want you to play with that lamp." She waited a minute, then added: "If you will give me a nickel I won't tell her."

Her mother reproved her, saying: "See here, you are 7 years old now and too big for that."

With all imaginable innocence Betty replied: "Why mother, the bigger we gets the better we like 'em." R. W.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MRS. P. K.: YES, SALT IS recommended as a preventive of pyorrhea. It hardens and cleanses the gums. Just rub it on the toothbrush as you would a paste or dentifrice of any kind.

Current Marketing.

Let us forget that prices took a tilt on the day before Thanksgiving which brought some things up to a third more than we had been paying. Let all good women come to the aid of their winter pantries, and particularly for the Christmas time celebrations, now. Nuts and raisins and other dried fruits purchased now can be utilized in a number of ways for the Christmas season.

Celery and lettuce and other salad materials, if washed and put in cloth bags or paper, will keep from one to two weeks in a cool place, and cucumbers even longer. To prolong their life, we may take them out of their bags or wrappings, freshen them by cold baths and the evaporation of the water, and put them away again.

Those people who hung up the tomato plants by the roots in some cool storage places were wiser this year than usual, for tomatoes soaked in price almost as soon as the generous and cheap boxes of harvest time disappeared. But tomatoes secured at bargain prices now, especially if not wholly ripe if wrapped in paper and kept cool, can be preserved for some time.

Of course, now is the time to buy peas and beans, perhaps a whole winter's supply.

"Those are expensive!" I remarked to a grocer who was charging me 25 cents a pound for green split peas.

"Yes," he remarked.

I repeated my statement with an added adjective, and he responded with equal cheerfulness. On that same day I bought green split peas for 13 cents a pound. It is a fair price. Two cents more may be tolerated.

Watch for liquidation prices now! Always be willing to pay more in a place where highly sanitary conditions prevail.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I want to be the medium through which the discarded articles which have not been sold in the stores, but which are still useful, may be put to use. I will gladly give if you know how to get about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper. When interested parties are secured, a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send pictures to the Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Has Furniture to Give.

"We are breaking up our home and have a set of white bedroom furniture, including bed and springs, which we would be glad to give to any one caring to call for same." G. G. M.

Girl Needs Winter Coat.

"Will you kindly ask your readers if they have hanging in their wardrobe a winter coat that could be made over to fit my 12 year old girl. I am a widow with two children to support, and I am not working at the present time." Mrs. N.

VAST INFLATION CHIEF CAUSE OF SOARING PRICES

BY O. A. MATHER.

The decline in the purchasing power of money or, to put it another way, the increase in commodity prices has been and is a world wide phenomenon. The increase that occurred during the war was variously explained by the necessity of increasing production, by the shortage of labor attendant with the putting of vast armies in the field and, roughly, as a product of the "war boom."

But with the end of the war began a growing sentiment that there would be a fairly speedy return to something approximating the pre-war basis of prices. That this adjustment did not begin to take place during the year following the armistice, that prices advanced even further and only within the last few months have shown a declining tendency, has been the cause of popular resentment in the degree to which the basic causes were not understood.

Money Standards Based on Gold.
It is the purpose of this article to set forth something of the changes which have taken place in the purchasing power of money throughout the world as the result of the war and its aftermath. Assuming that war is almost purely destructive, what has happened? The money standards of the principal nations of the world are based on gold. Thus the value of the currency of any nation in relation to the currencies of other nations is founded primarily on the proportion of gold back of that currency.

When the currency of any nation is expanded by additions of paper money, without a proportionate increase in the stock of gold, such expansion is termed "inflation." It is almost axiomatic that the purchasing power of any currency declines about in proportion to its inflation. This has become increasingly true as the nations of the world have become more and more closely associated through international commerce.

How's What Happened.
Now let us see briefly what has happened to the money power of the world, using data compiled by the National City Bank of New York. World national debts in 1913, the last pre-war year, were about $14,000,000,000. This total had increased to $212,000,000,000 at the time of the armistice. But the increase did not stop there, as the aftermath of the war brought new debts. This total debt during the first year after the war increased to $254,000,000,000 and now stands at about $300,000,000,000. Thus, this world debt has increased nearly sevenfold and the great part of it represents a total loss being expended in the destruction of warfare.

The raising of the enormous sums necessary for prosecution of the war not only called for vast bond issues by all the nations engaged, but, in the final extremity, in currency expansion or inflation. Thus, the world paper currency, which amounted to $7,500,000,000 in 1913, increased to $43,000,000,000 at the time of the armistice, to $54,000,000,000 toward the end of 1919, and to $12,000,000,000 at the present time, two years after the armistice.

Inflation on Percentage Basis.
Now, returning to the premise that most of the national currencies are based on gold, what has happened? The world's stock of gold has remained practically constant. The world's paper currency has increased almost sevenfold. In 1913 the ratio of gold to paper currency was about 64.5 per cent; at the time of the armistice 17.3 per cent; a year later, 13.5 per cent, and now, about 9.2 per cent. This, to a fair degree, marks the inflation of the world's currency.

The great bulk of the post-war increase in national debts and paper currency occurred, of course, in Europe. Europe's share of the world national debt is 58 per cent and of the world paper currency 82 per cent. Recalling that the United States now possesses about 4 per cent of the world's gold currency stock, estimated at about $9,000,000,000, we see to what extent Europe has inflated its currency.

Increases Commodity Prices.
In this European inflation and degree to which it is apportioned among the nations lies the chief explanation of the depreciation of European currencies compared with our own, and the increase in commodity prices the world over. English currency has depreciated about Handley-Knight.

G. P. Decatur, Mich.—The Handley Knight company has been formed to manufacture a car that was formerly made by the Willys Overland company. The latter ceased making it to specialize on a somewhat smaller car of otherwise similar type. The new company has contracts with the Willys and the Knight people, covering patents. Its balance sheet of Oct. 31 shows land, buildings, inventories, etc., amounting to about $1,000,000. The authorized stock is 80,000 shares of no par value, one half of which are being offered now. This is a new venture, not yet operating on a commercial basis. It has the backing of reputable people in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Colorado Fuel and Iron.

G. B.—The Colorado Fuel and Iron company earned $1.90 a share on its $44,235,000 of common stock in the three months ended Sept. 30 last. This compares with $1.40 in the preceding quarter. In the nine months $4.71 a share was earned, compared with $4.16 in the corresponding period of 1919. For years the dividends on preferred stock were in arrears, and, of course, during that time nothing was paid on common. Since 1917 common has been receiving 1 per cent a year. Apparently the company is over-capitalized, and the stock is speculative.

Caddo Central Oil.

C. B.—The Caddo Central Oil and Refining corporation was formed in March, 23 per cent, French about 60 per cent, and German about 93 per cent.

This inflation, in terms of their own currencies, has resulted in tremendous commodity price increases in those countries; but to the extent to which Europe has purchased American goods, paying in depreciated currency or buying on credit, it has been competing with purchasers among our own people. Thus, our own commodity prices have been increased to a larger degree through this circumstance than as the result of our own currency inflation, which has been comparatively small.

FINANCIAL NOTES

A banking group headed by Blair & Co. and Hallgarten & Co., including the Equity Trust company and Chase Securities corporation of New York and the Illinois Trust and Savings bank and the First Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, are organizing a syndicate to offer a new issue of $12,500,000 twelve-year 7 1/2 per cent sinking fund gold notes of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company. This is the first financing by the company since 1914, when it sold an issue of 6 per cent debentures. The notes are subsequently converted to a large extent, into the company's preferred stock.

The volume of business has shown a steady growth from $62,218,078 for the fiscal year 1915 to $138,918,526 for the fiscal year 1920, an increase of over 100 per cent. This has made it desirable to increase the net working capital through the issue of new debentures. These debentures will have a sinking fund sufficient to retire over 50 per cent of the issue by maturity. There will also be provisions restricting the creation of mortgage liens and provisions requiring the maintenance of the net quick assets equal to 150 per cent of the debentures outstanding. It is expected that a public offering of the issue will be made shortly.

The federal court in New York has granted permission to six subsidiaries of the Consolidated Gas company and the Brooklyn Union Gas company to increase the rates for gas to $1.10 on Dec. 1 and to continue making the increased charge until the trial of the suits instituted by the companies to have the statutory rates declared unconstitutional.

HEAVY SELLING BREAKS STOCK PRICES IN LONDON

BY MANFRED EMANUEL.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 28.—Stock exchange times are going from bad to worse. The week under review was one of the most depressing experienced in many long days.

Continental selling was the initial trouble, but that soon was overshadowed by liquidation for home account. It is true that the markets rallied on Tuesday, but thereafter the provinces poured in a flood of selling orders. In addition there were all sorts of pessimistic rumors.

Industrial Position Fuzzing.

The industrial position admittedly is difficult, chiefly because of the declining prices of leading commodities. This and lower stock prices necessitated additional securities to back up loans at the banks. This has been another reason for causing stocks to be thrown overboard.

The large sums of money drawn from industry by taxation also are crippling manufacturers and merchants. Apart from the forced selling due to the causes just enumerated, undoubtedly professional stock market operators have taken advantage of their opportunities.

Five day bulls have been replaced by five day bears. These were covering heavily in many directions at the closing day of the week, and that naturally put many prices down considerably, but it is more than likely that they will take advantage of any chance in the coming week to put prices down again.

Public Slow to Invest.
In general the subscriptions for new security issues have been failures. The public, for this moment, has had enough, and with many new appeals for funds still to come, is in no hurry to enter into new investments.

Undoubtedly there are some anxious days ahead for the stock exchange. Some people say a serious break lies ahead, others say that prices have reached the bottom now. In many quarters much is expected of the conference between Lloyd George and the financiers.

Age and Growth as Elements of Credit

IN 1877 R. H. and C. M. Avery started to manufacture farm implements in a small way. Their business outgrew their partnership form of organization and ultimately the present Avery Company was formed to take it over. When the present company was formed it showed the following assets:

Gross Assets 1907 . . . $2,114,682
Net Assets 1907 . . . 1,385,059

The above were large figures for those days, but as farming expanded the world over and a world-wide demand for this Company's products sprang up, the Company had to expand. New capital had to be enlisted, and earnings had to be put back into the business instead of paying same out in dividends. As a result of this policy, when the Company came to place a public loan its statement as of September 30, 1920, showed:

Gross Assets 1920 . . . $12,140,560 574%
Net Assets 1920 . . . 6,712,723 485%

The above net assets are after deducting the $3,000,000 8% Ten-Year Convertible Sinking Fund Gold Notes just issued and sold by the Company to a very important group of Bankers throughout the United States. If for the purpose of ascertaining the volume of net assets available for the payment of these notes, such notes are not deducted, the very satisfactory figure of $9,712,723 is arrived at. This is equivalent to more than three times the amount of these notes. Furthermore, the Sinking Fund which becomes operative November 1st next will retire $300,000 of these notes on that date and annually thereafter, thus paying off the entire debt on or before maturity.

Notwithstanding the policy of turning profits back into the business, which has been followed more or less during the past forty-three years, this business between 1884 and 1920, inclusive, paid its owners nearly 400% on their investment.

These notes are convertible at the holder's option only into common stock at $100 per share. The stock is tax exempt in Illinois, and within a year has sold as high as 135. This conversion privilege will undoubtedly be valuable during the life of these notes.

The farming industry is the oldest in the world. Among civilized peoples the machinery for carrying it on has steadily developed in efficiency. The farm labor situation is such that the successful farmer has to adopt improvements as fast as they are developed. In addition, the farmer all over the world is better able to put modern machinery than ever before, and the decline of farm commodities is not going to seriously impair his buying power, especially for those things he regards as necessities.

The farm implement business in America has been highly successful and profitable. The fact that a relatively large number of America's largest fortunes were made in this business is proof of that fact.

We recommend the Avery Company 8% Ten-Year Convertible Sinking Fund Gold Notes for investment. Price 100 and accrued interest, giving you full 8% on your money invested.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

"DO Your Christmas Shopping Early." Every preparation has been made by this store to make possible the best sort of early shopping.

Assortments of fine merchandise are in readiness. In their scope and variety they encompass every need.

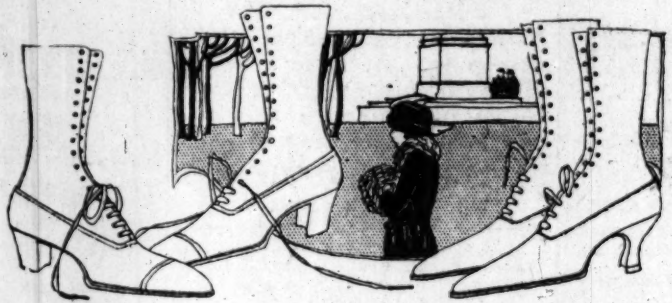

Pricings are such that expenditures will be made to great advantage.

Announcing a New Depot Motor Bus Service

Between the Northwestern Station, Madison Street entrance, and the Retail Store of Carson Pirie Scott and Company, State Street entrance.

En route, stop is made at Canal and Monroe Streets, Southeast Corner, for Union Station passengers.

A five-minute schedule will be maintained. Cash fare is 10c—tickets are six for 50c. Tickets are on sale on all buses and at four booths at Carson Pirie Scott and Company.

Another Special Selling of Women's Fine Boots, $9.75 Pair

This is another of the value-giving occasions which have so firmly established this Women's Shoe Section in the favor of our patrons. It is an event which provides noteworthy economy.

Here are boots for street wear and for semi-dress, all of excellent quality, made according to our own high standards of workmanship and perfection of detail, at an unusually low price. Included are:

Tan Calfskin Boots Brown Calfskin Boots
Dull Kidskin Boots Brown Kidskin and Black Kidskin Boots

All sizes may be chosen from the group as a whole, but not every size is available in every style. The pricing is notably low. The values cannot be too greatly emphasized. Early choice is advised.

None of These Boots Will Be Accepted for Credit or for Refund.

All-Wool Sweater Coats

Unusually Smart—Specially Priced, $10.75

For every reason for which women choose sweater coats at this time of the year, these will be much wanted. Pricing, exceptional as it is, becomes a secondary consideration in view of their desirability.

The Quality of Wool Is Especially Fine.
The Colors Are Those Most Wanted Now.

They are knit in a particularly attractive stitch. Collars, cuffs, belts and pockets, all denote the skill in detail which is distinctive of sweater coats here. At left, Brushed Wool Scarfs, Pocketed and Fringed, $7.75

These may be chosen in an apparently endless variety of colors, with borders smartly checked in contrasting shades. A quality seldom obtainable at this price. Sketched at the right.

Certain Groups of Women's Smart Hats Reduced

Of unusual interest at this time are these reductions on midwinter millinery. Every hat is a lovely mode from our own fine stocks, with characteristic quality and charm. The following are included:

400 Banded Hats at $3 and $4.50 Each
250 Trimmed Hats at $6.50 Each
100 Misses' and Children's Hats, $2.95 Each

Styles are too numerous to mention in detail—briefly, all types of hats for every occasion are included. Every one exceptional at its reduced price.

In a Sale, 5,000 Yards of Very Fine Crepe de Chine and Georgette Crepe Very Specially Priced $1.85 Yard

Perhaps no two other fabrics are in greater and more constant demand than crepe de Chine and Georgette crepe. To find them in these excellent qualities, so low-priced, emphasizes the remarkable nature of these silk sales here.

The crepe de Chine and the Georgette crepes are both 40 inches wide and may be had in all the wanted shades, as well as in black and white. $1.85 yard.

1,500 Yards of All-Silk 36-Inch Black Dress Satins, $2.75 Yard

Black dress satins that are soft and lustrous and rich in appearance. Of the quality which can be relied upon for good service, are priced exceedingly low, $2.75 yard.

The Quantities in These Groups Are Definitely Stated. In View of the Unusually Low Pricing, Early Choice Is Advised.

Wool Jersey Over-Blouses

Hand-embroidered, Specially Priced, $10

This is the sort of blouse for which every woman and young woman always finds many uses in her winter wardrobe.

They are so uncommonly smart and so satisfactory, because of their warmth, for crisp winter days, that they will be quickly chosen at this unusual pricing. These blouses are in the

Much Favored Surplice Style
In Charming Color Combinations

The all-wool jersey is of that unmistakably superior quality so essential as foundation for embroidery done in heavy silk thread.

This blouse is sketched above. It is particularly interesting that the colors are chosen with careful thought to the suit shades and the plaid skirts most in vogue. These blouses may be chosen in

Taupe With Brown, Navy Blue With Gray,
French Blue With Gray, Brown With Beige.

This is but one of the many attractive wool jersey over-blouses to be chosen here, both tailored and embroidered types.
